JOURNAL OF THE SENATE
NINETY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE
STATE OF MISSOURI
FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY--WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 8, 2003

The Senate was called to order at 12:00 noon by Lieutenant Governor Joe Maxwell.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

"He has showed you, O man, what is good, and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness and to walk humbly with your God." (Micah 6:8)

Gracious God, we come to this hallowed chamber, some new, many experienced, to face one of the most challenging fiscal years this Senate has faced. We ask Your blessing on each here to be all that You require of us. So we pray for Your guidance in all the decisions we must make. As we do so, make us ever mindful how to pass equitable laws that provide justice and seek to show kindness among each other and the most needy in our state. And help us to seek You daily in prayer and meditation and walk humbly with You through these halls. All this we ask in Your Holy Name. Amen.

The Cleveland Junior Naval Academy Color Guard, St. Louis, presented the Colors.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

The National Anthem was performed by a trio from the Cleveland Junior Naval Academy.

The President of the Senate stated that the Rules of the Senate would be the Missouri Senate Rules of the 2nd Regular Session of the Ninety-first General Assembly until temporary or permanent rules are adopted.

Senator Gibbons announced that photographers from KOLR-TV, the Jefferson City News Tribune, KMIZ-TV, KOMU-TV, the Springfield News Leader, the Senate and guests had been given permission to take flash pictures and to video in the Senate Chamber and gallery today.

Senator Gibbons submitted the following appointments of officers for the temporary organization, which were read:

President Pro Tem Peter Kinder

Secretary of Senate Terry L. Spieler

Sergeant-at-Arms Glenn Pound

Doorkeeper Ken Holman

Senator Gibbons requested unanimous consent of the Senate that the above named officers be elected as temporary officers until permanent officers are elected, which request was granted.

Good afternoon and welcome back as we begin our challenging task of transacting the public's business in another tough budget year. I am delighted to see each of you, as I know you are delighted to be here.

Today, we have sworn in 17 members of this August body. We bid each of you a warm welcome. To our returning colleagues, we are again delighted to welcome you back as part of our Senate family. And to our twelve new members, we are most pleased to welcome you to the Missouri Senate. Service in this body is an honor and a privilege accorded to only a few.

Look around this magnificent chamber. On the occasion corresponding to this day a year ago, I focused our attention on our magnificent renovation, then newly completed, the results of which are so beautiful to behold. I asked us all to reflect on the wisdom of Sir Winston Churchill, who said:

"First we shape our buildings. Then they shape us."

Surely we must count ourselves fortunate to be allowed to work in a room that has taken its place among the most magnificent legislative chambers in the world.

But look around at another feature of this chamber. You will see that there is no line of demarcation between the members of the two great political parties. We don't have seating by parties in the Missouri Senate, and as far as I know, never have had. This is as it should be, for as we are fond of repeating, each one of us is a senator and, now that you're here, you are an irreplaceable part of our Senate family.

Together, we face daunting challenges. However, as a state we have faced difficult times before. One hundred and forty years ago, our nation was sundered by a great Civil War. A war that divided Missouri as much as any state. A war that I might add, has defined our politics in the nearly 14 decades since, given the fact that, as one historian said, "You vote where and as your great-grand-daddy fought."

Only through the perseverance and resolve of our first Republican president, Abraham Lincoln, did we endure as a nation. Facing the greatest of obstacles, we won the war that re-defined the American experiment and unified the nation paving the way for the great union of 50 states to which it has evolved this day.

As others have before us, today, in this spirit of unity, we can and we must come together to meet the challenges that face us.

Last year, I spent a great deal of time traveling the state, making calls on various individuals. I want to tell you about one visit in the City of Springfield, at a company called Positronic Industries, a high-tech manufacturer of electronic components for various industries, including telecommunications.

The CEO made an enormous impression on this senator, and I want to tell you why.

Jack Gentry is the founder of this fine company, which employs 400 people in our state in manufacturing, and 720 people worldwide.

Mr. Gentry told me that he and his colleagues formed an organization called the Southwest Area Manufacturers Association that must remain ever vigilant, he said, and I quote:

"... in order to protect ourselves from what the politicians are trying to do to us."

I found bracing the blunt-spokenness of this entrepreneurial hero, who got his start as a fighter pilot in the South Pacific during World War II. Could it be that in Jack Gentry's refreshing candor, I had stumbled across a clue to why Missouri finds itself in such an economic mess today?

ITEM: A recent national report tells us that Missouri is one of only nine or so states that remains mired in recession, as the national economy expands at a growth-rate of about 3 percent.

ITEM: From Gov. Holden's own administration, we had the report last August that Missouri led the nation in the loss of manufacturing jobs, with 55,000 jobs lost in the previous year.

In November, another report by the same department of economic development updated us with a new figure: We have lost 77,000 jobs.

It is no honor for Missouri to lead the nation in the loss of manufacturing jobs. In this lamentable category, we are Number One.

ITEM: Last year brought us the terrible news, via the Ford Motor Company, that their plant in Bridgeton, home these last 55 years to 2,600 high-paying UAW jobs, will be closed in just a few years.

St. Louis, long second only to Detroit in auto manufacturing, is slipping.

ITEM: Last month brought to my office representatives of Ford, saying the continued survival of their huge Claycomo plant near Kansas City is endangered by certain local taxing practices - policies over which you and I have no small amount of influence.

ITEM: Perhaps you have letters on your desk, as do I, from a trucking executive or other business leader, who relates that the continued survival of the company is threatened by workers compensation costs spiraling out of control. Or perhaps you have heard, as have I, from physicians who are stunned at the exploding costs of medical malpractice insurance that are doubling, or quadrupling, almost overnight, even with no change in claims history. Or perhaps you have heard from a nursing-home operator or other small business owner, who says spiraling insurance costs are deadly threats to his or her continuance as an employer in our state.

To revisit just one of these examples, if you inquire into the matter, you will learn that in the case of the Bridgeton Ford plant, it costs between $150 and $300 more per Explorer - with one emerging from the assembly line every minute -- to manufacture in St. Louis than it does in Louisville, Ky. Their Kentucky plant is staying open.

Facts, as that great Missourian Harry Truman said, are stubborn things. These are facts. We ignore them at our peril. I ask that we pull together to tackle these issues so that when we leave here on the 16th of May, of us it can be said that we took action to better Missouri's economic climate - to take down the sign that has been posted saying, "Missouri is unfriendly to business" and replace it with one that says "we welcome jobs and opportunity and we are very much open for business".

As you well know, we confront a budget situation more grim than any Missourian has seen in the last 50 years. I believe, and hope that you agree, that this shortfall is directly related to the startling economic facts I have just cited.

We must acknowledge those facts are also a result of a state government that went on a spending spree during the last decade, as revenues grew smartly. Now the crunch time has arrived and the bill has come due. And the bill has come due in the same few months that we have seen the voters twice reject proposals put to them, once in August and again in November, to increase taxes.

I pledge to work together with one and all to meet this difficult challenge, to meet our obligation to deliver a budget in balance and on time.

In doing so, we as lawmakers must always remember three requirements of truly representative government:

Sound policy must come before politics;

Reality must come before rhetoric;

And taxpayers must always come before taxes."

The governors' proposal to use $350 million from an untested method of selling tobacco bonds in order to balance this year's budget raises a host of questions that must be answered. Last session we approved $50 million in bond appropriations. This fiscal year, the governor wants to use $350 million in tobacco bond expenditures.

While it is still possible that the governor and the Legislature could reach an agreement on the issue of tobacco bonds, the governor's handling of the matter, to this point, has frankly made it less likely.

A recent New York Times article told of other states that have gone his route, only to see their states' credit ratings suffer a downgrade. An awareness of this risk must accompany all our deliberations on this issue.

Moreover, the governor needs to be absolutely forthcoming with the public and with us about the added risk associated with his new, "hybrid" approach to selling tobacco bonds. Under the governor's new plan, all the risk associated with the sale of the bonds will be placed directly on Missouri taxpayers, rather than transferring that risk to the bondholders as originally proposed.

Further, don't forget that because of a pending lawsuit between the City of St. Louis and the tobacco companies, there is a strong chance that as early as next year, Missouri's share of the tobacco settlement that is supposed to be paying off this new debt, in the hundreds of millions, simply might not be there.

As you can see, plenty of answers will be needed before we agree to head down this road.

The governor has informed us that we face a $300 million shortfall in the current fiscal year, and as much as $1 billion in the 2004 fiscal year. With this news in mind, last week he announced $67 million in cuts and withholdings, and re-shuffled about 700 jobs in state government. To this mix he proposes to close $100 million in what he calls "corporate tax loopholes."

It is with great interest that I await his 2004 budget proposal, to be delivered in his address to us one week from today.

Let us also remember that last year, this Legislature did yeoman's work in meeting the governor's budget requests, based on projections consented to by that administration. Now, halfway through that budget, the governor faces tough choices that have already faced the Missouri General Assembly.

On the issue of how our state handles vulnerable children entrusted to us, we cannot stand idly by, blinded by parochialism, while families in this state are torn apart by the public policies that are intended to protect them.

Last year, I appointed a special committee and charged it with investigating the policies of the Division of Family Services within the Department of Social Services. Beginning in November, this committee held four hearings: In St. Louis, we heard four-and-a-half hours of testimony from witnesses; in Kansas City, we heard three-and-a-half hours of witnesses; and then in Springfield, our committee convened at 6 p.m. for our third hearing. Six and a half hours and 83 witnesses later, the hearing adjourned at 12:30 a.m. This we followed with another all-afternoon hearing in the Senate lounge last month.

If I may summarize what we heard, in 18 hours of hearings, it was an astonishing outpouring of anguish, tears, bitterness, frustration and despair. We heard witness after witness tell us that our current system has ruined lives, trampled on constitutional rights and torn families apart. Most of this was confirmed by the inquiry launched by the governor's study and included in their report. Children who should be removed from homes weren't, while other children, who should remain in an intact family, were ruthlessly taken and placed into foster care. The testimony was so lopsided against our system, including DFS, judges and juvenile officers, that had our hearings been a prize fight the referees would have stopped it.

Reform legislation will be proposed. I need your help. But far more important, the people of Missouri need your help in vindicating the constitutional rights of our citizens and in cleaning up this terrible blot on our state.

Incidentally, for any who want to take the time, we videotaped all the hearings and have also re-produced the audio on compact discs. I encourage all of you to avail yourselves of the chance to become acquainted with this haunting testimony, as a prelude to the action we must take.

Reform legislation will also be forthcoming on the issue of abuse that occurs in nursing homes, and this will need to be accomplished carefully, so that bad operators are dealt with while good ones aren't unduly penalized or forced to close.

The value of a society can be judged in many ways, none more compelling than how it cares for its oldest, and its youngest members. Let us move forward to improve the way our state cares for both.

In doing so, let us note that no challenge we face is greater than providing educational opportunities for all Missouri's children. Public schools are essential in this effort. Public charter schools are essential in this effort. Private schools are essential in this effort. Likewise, we honor the growing number of our citizens who are choosing the home-school option.

I believe we have an educational emergency - an unfolding catastrophe - in our two great cities. Yes, there are problems in other districts across Missouri. I am open to discussing them. But it seems we long ago became accustomed to reports of 60 percent dropout rates, even as we build more prisons to house the exploding population of these dropouts.

Last week, a published report informed us that in the city of St. Louis, no fewer than 6,000 school children will be informed that under the new federal Leave No Child Behind Act, they have the right to transfer to another school because their schools - 17 of them in St. Louis alone - are failing them. This is more schools than are failing in the District of Columbia, which has long been acknowledged to be one of the most dysfunctional urban school systems in America.

It is clear that for these children the hour is late, the need for action is critical, and all approaches aimed at giving parents more choices must be on the table.

Another year of failure is more than these students can stand. They won't get another chance at education. We must act and act boldly to try new approaches to save another generation, yet again, from the failing schools in which current government policy has trapped them.

Meeting our challenges won't be easy. It won't be painless. Yet together, working across party lines as we often have before, including these last two years, we can bring Missouri through the challenges we face. I invite the governor and all our members to join us as we do the tough work of meeting these daunting challenges. If we do, then perhaps Jack Gentry, and the other Jack Gentrys across Missouri, will not fear what politicians have done to us, but will prosper in what has been accomplished for us, Missourians, and Americans, one and all.

President Maxwell resumed the Chair.

Senators Gross, Klindt, Steelman, Vogel, Mathewson, Goode and Kennedy offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 1

Rejecting the amount of increase in compensation for public officials as recommended by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials.

WHEREAS, in November 1994, the people of Missouri established in the Missouri Constitution an independent citizen's commission that was given primary responsibility to establish a schedule of compensation for public officials based upon a review and study of the duties of elected state officials, judges and members of the General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, the Commission has faithfully undertaken its responsibility and submitted a compensation schedule that provides for an increase in compensation for the affected public officials in the amount of 5.8% and an increase for judges in the amount of $6,000 per year; and

WHEREAS, the percentage increase recommended by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials was based upon recommendations made by the Personnel Advisory Board and the Missouri Commission on Total Compensation for all state employees for fiscal year 2004; and

WHEREAS, the Citizen's Commission report makes clear that the Commission intended public officials should be treated the same as all other state employees; and

WHEREAS, the increases ultimately adopted for all state employees may well not be those recommended by the Commission when its schedule was approved and filed; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly believes that public officials and judges should not receive any cost-of-living increase in compensation, if at all, in excess of the average salary adjustment provided to other state employees; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Constitution clearly provides that the recommendations of the Commission are subject to appropriations, and therefor may be reduced or rejected by the General Assembly and no increase shall take effect unless and until appropriated:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri Senate of the First Regular Session of the Ninety-second General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that we hereby reject the Compensation Schedule of the 2002 Report and Compensation Schedule of the Missouri Citizens Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials dated, November 27, 2002.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 2

WHEREAS, current studies indicate that children left at home alone and unsupervised have lower academic test scores, have higher absentee rates at school, exhibit higher levels of fear, stress, nightmares, loneliness, and boredom, are 1.7 times more likely to use alcohol, and are 1.6 times more likely to smoke cigarettes; and

WHEREAS, recent data shows that violent juvenile crime rates soar and children are most likely to be victims of a violent crime committed by a nonfamily member between the hours of 3 p.m. and 8 p.m., the hours immediately after school; and

WHEREAS, according to the National Center for Juvenile Justice, children are at greater risk of being involved in crime, substance abuse, and teenage pregnancy in the hours after school, especially between the hours of 3 p.m. and 4 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the most common activity for children after school is watching television, resulting in an average 23 hours of television watching per week; and

WHEREAS, the parents of more than 800,000 Missouri school-age children work outside the home; and

WHEREAS, according to the estimates of the Urban Institute of the United States Census Bureau, at least 7 million and as many as 15 million "latchkey children" return to an empty house on any given afternoon; and

WHEREAS, in the United States, families worry about their children being unsafe and having too much idle, unsupervised time; and

WHEREAS, the United States Departments of Education and Justice report that children in quality out-of-school programs have better academic performance, school attendance, behavior, and greater expectations for the future; and

WHEREAS, children who attend high quality out-of-school programs have better peer relations, emotional adjustment, conflict resolution skills, grades, and conduct in school compared to their peers who are not in out-of-school programs; and

WHEREAS, children who attend out-of-school programs spend more time in learning opportunities, academic activities, and enrichment activities, and spend less time watching television than their peers; and

WHEREAS, children who attend out-of-school programs miss fewer days of school, have better homework completion, better school behavior, and higher test scores; and

WHEREAS, the United States Congress has recognized the beneficial impact of out-of-school programs to our youth, and has increased the funding of out-of-school programs administered by the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education; and

WHEREAS, 92% of all Americans believe there should be organized activities for all youth during out-of-school hours; and

WHEREAS, it is estimated that less than 25% of all school-age children attend any out-of-school program, leaving 75% of our youth without a safe, supportive, and enriching environment during the unsupervised hours after the formal school day ends; and

WHEREAS, the Joint Interim Committee on After-School Programs has studied several of the above-mentioned issues during the tenure of the Ninety-first General Assembly and recommends that a similar study committee be established to continue the study during the tenure of the Ninety-second General Assembly;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Senate of the Ninety-second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the "Joint Legislative Committee on Out-of-School Programs" be created to be comprised of five members of the Senate, appointed by the President Pro Tem of the Senate and the Senate Minority Floor Leader and five members of the House of Representatives, appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the House Minority Floor Leader; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee, in consultation with the Departments of Elementary and Secondary Education, Social Services, and all other relevant agencies, make recommendations for an efficient and effective development plan to provide the opportunity for every Missouri school-age child to access quality out-of-school programs and design a system to train, mentor, and support out-of-school programs, and thereby guarantee their sustainability; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee be authorized to hold hearings as it deems advisable, and that the staffs of Senate Research, House Research, and the Committee on Legislative Research provide such legal, research, clerical, technical, and bill drafting services requested by the committee; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly endorses all of state government to enthusiastically encourage our citizens to engage in innovative out-of-school programs and activities that ensure that all Missouri school-age children are not only safe, but also productive when the school day ends; and

The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency, Governor Bob Holden, escorted the Governor to the dais where he delivered the State of the State Address to the Joint Assembly:

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS

By

Governor Bob Holden

January 15, 2003

Mr. President, Madame Speaker, Mr. President Pro Tem, Distinguished State Officials, Mr. Chief Justice, Honored Members of the Missouri Supreme Court, Members of the 92nd General Assembly, First Lady Lori Hauser Holden, and Citizens of the State of Missouri:

I come before you today, the 15th of January, on the anniversary of the birth of one of our greatest American leaders, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Had his life not been tragically ended at the age of 39, he would be 74 today.

Yet in that short life span, the words he spoke and the principles he stood for...fought for...and died for...had such an impact that they continue to help chart our course today.

In the face of threats and intimidation that he and other civil rights leaders faced, Dr. King taught us the important lesson of perseverance.

And, he warned us against the temptation of "wallowing in the valley of despair."

He had a Dream...and in spite of seemingly impossible obstacles, he held firm to that Dream.

Today, Dr. King's wisdom and leadership can guide us as we move forward in challenging times.

President Franklin Roosevelt faced such times.

He faced the greatest economic depression this country has ever known, and he taught us that when you lead with "frankness and vigor," you are met with "understanding and support."

Our own Harry Truman faced tough economic times as President.

Yet he offered the American people straight talk and a plan...a plan he called his Fair Deal.

This plan proposed reforms and some tough medicine, but it did not sacrifice the future.

Instead it protected the future by emphasizing education and research.

From these leaders we have learned to have a dream...to have perseverance...to be honest about our situation...and to have a plan to move forward.

Like these leaders, we must overcome the challenges of the present.

We must turn our challenges into opportunities.

Each of you has come here to do your best for your district and the people you represent.

Some of you are returning for your final term as a state senator or state representative.

You have a unique opportunity to offer wisdom, experience, and knowledge to help us meet the most challenging budgetary situation faced by our state since the Great Depression.

Many of you are here for the very first time.

Never before have these chambers had such an influx of new faces.

And for the first time in years, we have a divided government...with one party controlling the executive branch and another controlling the legislature.

Cynics might say that this kind of divided government cannot work.

For the sake of the people of the State of Missouri, I say it must!

I welcome your energy and enthusiasm.

I welcome your new ideas.

To each and every one of you, I want to reiterate what I said November 7th, following your election.

I want to work with anyone--Democrat or Republican, veteran legislator or freshman--who comes here to help move our state forward.

We must all remember why the voters sent us here.

In the weeks ahead, you will hear a lot about bills and amendments, hearings and caucuses, appropriations and withholdings, and thousands of other things.

But at the end of the day, our work isn't about any of that.

Our work is about people.

Our work is about those people back home who have put their trust in us.

This job is about what we can do to help our citizens live decent lives and help our children grow up safe, well educated, and ready to work.

It is about providing jobs for our workers and helping our seniors retire in dignity.

The citizens of Missouri look to us for all these things.

They look to you and me to lead through challenging economic times.

Some may think that we must stop dead in our tracks in our efforts to make Missouri a better place to learn, work, and live. Some may think our days of progress are over.

I reject that!

In tough times, it is more important than ever that we continue to lead and to achieve.

Let's look at all we have accomplished.

In the past two years, we increased funding for education at the elementary and secondary level, while 17 other states chose to cut funding for education.

We've made real progress in our schools.

Reading scores are up.

ACT scores are up.

Our school dropout rate is down.

We have doubled the number of teachers who are nationally board certified.

We've added character education programs and accountability programs.

We now have individual school report cards and parents can go on-line to see how their child's school sizes up.

At our universities, we've increased support for life sciences because we know this is the key to our future knowledge-based economy.

We passed landmark legislation to improve health care for women.

We have continued our MC + for Kids program, providing health care for previously uninsured children.

And we've done something the federal government has failed to do--we passed a prescription drug plan for our seniors.

We've made all these accomplishments while maintaining our Triple A bond rating.

Only seven other states have such a high rating.

This top rating means the financial market has the highest confidence in our management ability.

We were the first state in the nation to create an Office of Homeland Security.

I pulled together leaders from many different professions--health, emergency services, transportation, and law enforcement --to improve security at every level.

Because of their work, we have already seen improvements in communications and law enforcement and emergency response efforts that will serve us well in a variety of situations.

We have accomplished all of these things, while keeping the budget in balance, as our constitution requires.

Now is not the time to turn back.

JOBS AND THE ECONOMY

As we look to the future, our single most important priority can be summed up in one word--"jobs."

We must make every effort both to hold on to our good jobs and to move our state more rapidly into the new "knowledge-based economy" of the future.

As you know, the current national economy has not produced a net gain of even one single job during the last two years.

In fact, there has been a net loss of jobs nationally.

In Missouri we must put together a job stimulus effort that makes the right choices that will pay off for the long term.

I am proposing several actions today to help Missouri hold on to good paying manufacturing jobs and to help our state plan for the future.

First, I am calling for a one-percentage point reduction in the corporate tax rate.

If we make certain all businesses pay their fair share, we can broaden our tax base, and we can provide some stimulus to small businesses and all those good corporate citizens in Missouri who are working hard and paying their fair share.

Reducing the corporate tax rate will provide support for Missouri businesses in a time of economic challenge with the goal of growing the economy and creating jobs.

Second, I want to provide the right incentives to protect the right jobs already in Missouri.

Currently, our economic incentive programs primarily concentrate on attracting new businesses to our state.

We must tailor more of our incentives to retain good companies already in Missouri.

It makes no sense to offer incentives to attract companies to Missouri that provide low paying jobs, while Missouri employers with higher wages may be looking elsewhere.

We will insist these incentives be tied to important capital investments such as retooling or investing in new technologies.

In St. Louis alone, this change would help protect the jobs of about 2,600 people with salaries averaging over $60,000 a year at the Hazelwood Ford Plant.

Missouri's economic future also depends on a quality total transportation system.

However, the public has expressed a lack of confidence in the current structure, and we cannot address underfunding until we address accountability.

That is why I am proposing a constitutional amendment that would transfer responsibility for managing the department to the Governor, effective 2005.

If we are to move forward on transportation, the public must know whom to hold accountable.

Finally, we must make Missouri a leader in the new "knowledge-based" economy of the future.

The critical foundation of this effort--the key to Missouri's future---is--and must always be--education.

Improving education in our state is the most important step we can take to provide better opportunities for our children and to improve our climate for the knowledge-based economy.

And as we advance to the economy of the future, our investment in higher education becomes even more important.

Investments made in our universities...made when our economy was stronger...were the right investments to make.

Missouri is now poised to move forward in the knowledge-based economy by focusing on innovation and the critical areas of the life sciences, advanced manufacturing, and information technology.

But to quote the Chancellor at the University of Missouri--Columbia, it takes a long time to build up a major research university--one that contributes to our economy and one that competes with other major universities.

And just a short time to tear one down.

Support for our universities is an investment in the jobs of the future.

And that is why I also urge all businesses and corporations in this state to strengthen their commitment to higher education.

Because if you are in business in Missouri, the benefits of a strong higher education system flow directly to you--from the quality of your future workforce to the research that provides advances in agriculture, technology, life sciences, biotechnology, and advanced manufacturing.

I am taking two steps to strengthen the link between our businesses and higher education.

I am appointing a Commission on the Future of Higher Education.

This voluntary commission will make recommendations on how we can find ways to strengthen the link between higher education and economic growth in our state, how we can improve higher education overall in Missouri, and identify any new funding sources for our colleges and universities.

Second, I have called for a new alliance between businesses and our universities.

I have asked leaders in higher education and in the private sector to create the Research Alliance of Missouri to coordinate research and provide more access to technology for Missouri businesses.

They start their work today.

By these two steps, we can better direct and connect higher education and the economy.

We must make our colleges, universities, and technical schools the engines that fuel our economy of the future.

MISSOURI'S CURRENT BUDGET

We must also resolve our budget situation if we are to move our state forward.

Missouri now faces a projected one billion-dollar budget shortfall.

Former Governor Ashcroft's budget director has briefed business leaders in this state to help them better understand the significance of this shortfall.

Perhaps some of you have seen his presentation, in which he points out that only $6.8 billion of our budget is state general revenue.

The remainder of the budget is federal money earmarked for specific services and dedicated state funds such as money for highways.

This $6.8 billion is what you and I directly control.

One half of that goes to education--K-12 and higher education.

The other half goes into critical services for the mentally ill, the disadvantaged, and ensuring public safety.

In fact, more than half of the general revenue funded employees in Missouri state government work in our 24-hour institutions ---our prisons, mental health hospitals, veterans homes, and group homes.

A one billion dollar shortfall in a $6.8 billion budget leaves few good options.

We have a challenge...as do forty-five other states.

Time magazine reports that states are facing the most severe budget crisis since World War II.

Our neighbor Kansas, with a budget about half our size, has a $1 billion shortfall over two years.

Our neighbor to the East, Illinois, has a $5 billion deficit.

And California has a $35 billion shortfall.

These examples are telling evidence of the weakness in our national economy.

But knowing that other states share this dilemma does nothing to solve the problems here.

We have to do that ourselves, and it will take a united, focused effort on the part of those in this room today.

It is time for some plain Missouri talk.

To those who suggest we need to cut spending, let me assure you we have... and we will continue to reduce the size of government.

But if we are to be honest, we must acknowledge that already Missouri ranks near the bottom in per capita spending by state government.

In fact, we are 44th in per capita spending.

And if we are to be honest, we must acknowledge the progress we have already made to streamline government.

During the past two years, my administration has done more to reduce the size of government than any other administration -Democrat or Republican --in recent history.

In two years, we have cut $900 million from the budget and more than 1,000 state jobs to meet the constitutional obligation of keeping the budget balanced.

Last week I approved additional withholdings just to keep our budget balanced through the end of June.

Because of declining revenue due to the national economy, we still have a shortfall in this year's budget, which ends June 30.

One of your first orders of business in this session must be to approve an appropriation for the securitization of the tobacco settlement.

Without this action, deep cuts in education and other vital services will be necessary.

I trust you will see the wisdom of following through and implementing tobacco securitization, as you overwhelmingly approved it last year.

Despite all these efforts, we still have a one billion dollar shortfall next year.

Today I am announcing my plan to meet both our constitutional responsibility to balance the budget and our civic responsibility to provide for the well being of our citizens.

We have combed the budget...department by department...program by program...line by line...looking for savings.

The actions I am announcing today will bring the total reductions I have had to make to $1.1 billion.

We are making every appropriate effort to cover next year's shortfall, reduce the size of government, and live within our means.

But, to cover the shortfall in cuts alone would require making one billion dollars in additional reductions.

And would require actions that you and I cannot accept.

Some states already have resorted to such actions.

More than 100 school districts in seven states...states like Arkansas and Colorado--are now shutting down their public schools one day a week.

In California, the Governor has called for reductions in health care spending that will deny service to at least 209,000 needy people.

Kentucky has released 567 prison inmates.

This is a road I am not willing to take.

Members of this General Assembly: we are at a crossroads in this state.

We can take the road of the one billion-dollar cut--which leads us backward.

This road leads to deep cuts in education, massive layoffs, and significant cuts to vital state services.

Or we can take a better road...the road forward.

One that continues our progress to streamline government, but one that protects and maintains critical services and also leads us to a brighter future.

We can take a road that provides better opportunities for our children and the job producing economy of the future.

Today I am calling on you to take the second road by embracing a new budget plan...one I call the Fair Share Plan.

FAIR SHARE BUDGET

I began discussion of this new plan with legislative leaders last September.

Then I went to other locations throughout the state to share my concerns about the budget with our citizens and to seek their input.

Time and time again, these Missourians told me they did not want vital services cut.

And time and time again, they recognized that an investment in education is an investment in jobs.

The people of Missouri have said they want their priorities funded.

Today I come to you with a plan that protects those priorities...one that continues our efforts to reduce the size of government, but one that does not sacrifice our future.

One important element of this Fair Share Budget is to close special interest loopholes that do nothing to grow our economy.

The vast majority of Missouri businesses do not benefit from these special breaks, which create a larger tax burden for the rest of our businesses.

And eliminating them is long overdue.

Some of these loopholes are blatantly unfair and were simply written to carve out breaks for special interests.

Some were well intentioned at one time, but have now outlived their usefulness.

And some were simply bad ideas or poorly written.

Many tax lawyers and accountants have developed a good eye for spotting gray areas of our law.

There's nothing illegal about that.

But I am reminded of W.C. Fields, who once said that his purpose for reading the Bible was to look for loopholes.

Tax advisors for special interests read the law the same way.

We have given them way too much easy reading.

My staff and I have spent the last four months working with business leaders and economists across this state.

Together we have identified a number of loopholes that should be closed.

For example, one of these loopholes allows national franchises to avoid paying corporate income taxes in Missouri by setting up dummy corporations in states that charge no corporate tax.

National franchises get this tax break, while the local hardware stores and corner drugstores pay their fair share.

Twenty-five other states, including our neighbor Illinois, have already closed this loophole, which costs Missouri millions every year.

Another Missouri tax loophole exempts royalties, dividends, and interest income Missouri businesses receive from their out-of-state interests.

This is essentially income that is not taxed anywhere.

This money is generated by corporate activity in our state and should be treated like other Missouri income.

We are the only state in the nation to offer this break, and it is costing us $31 million every year.

When small Missouri businesses and working families see these perks that have been carved out for a few, their confidence in the fairness of our government is eroded.

They know that special interest tax loopholes are the worst form of wasteful spending.

By making these changes in our laws, we restore equity to our system, and we will generate revenue to allow us to meet our goals for the future.

Closing loopholes will allow us to make the one-percentage point corporate tax rate reduction we need to stimulate our economy.

It does not put an undue burden on any corporation to pay the taxes that most Missouri businesses have been paying all along.

But even when we close these loopholes, we will still be left with a major revenue hole in the budget.

Therefore, I am proposing that we increase the admission fee on gaming boats by $2.00, raise the gross receipt tax by two percent, and eliminate loss limits.

These steps will protect the school foundation formula from cuts.

I will also seek a cigarette tax dedicated to health care.

But in this proposal, the money will be needed to protect existing health care needs, including health care for our low-income elderly.

I propose these two revenue increases--gaming fees and cigarette taxes--as an alternative to a general tax.

These are optional taxes that most citizens won't have to pay.

Finally I propose a five-percent surcharge on individual income tax on households making more than $200,000 a year.

This proposal will only affect two percent of Missourians.

Changing our tax structure is never easy.

But responsible leadership demands such action.

My Fair Share Budget guarantees needed revenue but not at the expense of the majority of the working families of Missouri, who already pay their fair share.

If implemented, these actions will prevent deep cuts.

My plan ensures that we continue toward a goal of a leaner state government.

But I do not want it to be a meaner state government.

I know we must make additional savings.

This is one of the toughest budgets that has ever been proposed.

We have made major cuts, and they have been painful.

And we will continue to make cuts.

But we cannot cut and cut alone.

We cannot cut ourselves out of this hole without sacrificing our future and our economy.

We cannot cut ourselves out of this hole without hurting our most vulnerable citizens.

In fact, we must strengthen our resolve to protect our foster care children.

This past fall I ordered an investigation of our foster care program, and as a result, I have ordered a restructuring of the program and several personnel changes.

I have proposed a new children's division in the Department of Social Services and an ombudsman to investigate complaints and monitor children's services.

And the budget I present today prevents cuts in funding for children in state custody.

We must also strengthen our resolve to protect our elderly.

I am proposing tougher laws to protect the elderly in our nursing homes.

This is the opportunity to show our elderly we are on their side.

We must pass the Senior Care and Protection Act.

And we must strengthen our resolve to support another group of good Missourians who deserve our support...our state workers.

Missouri state workers have not had a cost of living pay increase in two years.

Regrettably, our budget crisis means we cannot fund an across the board increase this year.

But my budget does include an early retirement plan for state workers, which would save $24 million, and allow us to provide a modest increase of $600 annually to state workers who make less than $40,000.

This increase would be directed to those on the front line of service.

These are the workers who provide the security in our prisons, the assistance in our schools for the blind and the deaf, and the care in our state hospitals.

Time and time again, I have expressed to them my appreciation.

But praise and thanks do not put food on the table.

As we begin this new 2003 legislative session, I want to again welcome all new legislators of both parties.

I want to reiterate my commitment to work with you to govern our state responsibly.

On the opening day of this legislative session, much attention was given in both chambers to the problems we face as Missourians and much was said about what we want for Missourians.

But not one idea was put forward as to how we achieve these goals.

What Missourians expect from us is neither rhetoric nor a partisan battle over whether we have a revenue problem or a spending problem.

What Missourians expect from us is leadership and solutions.

I come to you today with solutions...solutions that meet our constitutional duty to produce a balanced budget and still preserve the key services Missourians expect state government to provide.

Your responsibility now is to send me a balanced budget.

But let me be clear as this process begins:

I will not sign a budget that cuts one billion dollars.

A budget balanced on the backs of hard working Missouri families is not acceptable.

I will not consider a plan that destroys an opportunity for quality public education for all our children...nor will I tolerate schemes to steal money from our poor schools and our rural schools to fund our richest schools.

I will not sit on the sidelines and let our legislative leaders try to pit higher education against elementary and secondary education.

We are all in this together.

Such actions would violate our duty to our children and their future.

And I will not accept a plan that hurts our working families and turns our back on our most vulnerable--our elderly, our disabled, or our children in foster care.

KEEPING FAITH WITH THE FUTURE

Today I am submitting a Fair Share Budget that provides a solution to our one billion-dollar deficit.

But it requires us to work together with resolve.

This budget requires continued cuts...but not cuts that sacrifice our priorities.

This plan is a solution to our one billion-dollar deficit for fiscal year 2004.

This is a budget that allows us to keep faith with the future.

Our great leaders of the past kept faith with the future.

Dr. King did not wallow in the valley of despair.

Instead he focused on the dream for a better tomorrow.

Harry Truman did not abandon the future.

In fact, it is said that Truman, from the time of his high school graduation, kept in his wallet these lines by the great poet Tennyson:

"For I dipped into the future, far as the human eye could see, saw the Vision of the world...all the wonder that could be."

Our challenges today pale in comparison to those faced by our parents and grandparents--who fought our great wars, survived the Great Depression, and worked long and hard every day of their lives.

They kept faith with the future by investing in education, in the interstate highway system, in engineering and medical research and space exploration.

We have a commitment to our parents...to our children...and our grandchildren.

Our future demands that we embrace the economy of tomorrow by making the right investments now.

As we deal with the realities of today, we must keep our faith with the future.

We must look ahead as far as the eye can see...to find a vision for our state...and all the wonder it can be.

Thank you.

On motion of Senator Gibbons, the Joint Session was dissolved and the Senators returned to the Chamber where they were called to order by Senator Childers.

The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Stephen N. Limbaugh, Jr., escorted the Chief Justice to the dais where he delivered the State of the Judiciary Address to the Joint Assembly:

The State of the Judiciary

Address of Chief Justice Stephen N. Limbaugh, Jr.

to the

92nd General Assembly, First Regular Session

January 22, 2003

President Maxwell, Speaker Hanaway, distinguished members of the Senate and House of Representatives. Let me begin with introductions of two of my colleagues on the Supreme Court. The first is Judge Richard Teitelman, our newest judge, who took office last March, after three years of service on the Court of Appeals in St. Louis, and 18 years as a legal aid lawyer, selflessly representing low-income citizens. Although Judge Teitelman is sight-impaired, he compensates by working day and night, with little sleep, and as the other judges will tell you, his caseload is the most current on the Court. In addition, he brings a personal kindness and graciousness that enhances the collegiality of a Court that already prides itself on its collegiality.

The other introduction is my friend Judge Ronnie White, who, on July 1, will take over my duties as chief justice as I complete my two-year rotation and he begins his. One hundred fifty years after Missouri's landmark Dred Scott case, which precipitated the Civil War, and in turn, the end of slavery, and the struggle for civil rights that followed, it is high time that an African-American is represented in the office of Chief Justice. And to that, I add that Judge White will be the first chief justice in 34 years who also has served in the legislature.

Last year at this time, you greeted me warmly, and many of you expressed to me that you appreciated my emphasis on the honor of public service. But it was also clear that my speech was well received because I didn't ask for money! Nor will I ask for money this year, knowing that the budget crisis is even worse. There is one exception: For the 3,000 or so court employees - court clerks and secretaries and juvenile officers - the people who staff the courthouses in our 114 counties and the City of St. Louis, the people who are the public's first and sometimes most critical contact with the court system, the people who keep the court records and process the data in the computers and who assist lawyers and litigants and the general public alike, the people who collect and process the myriad of fees and fines and child support payments and the like, the people who over years of dedicated service have worked themselves up a state pay grid that starts at just $17,000 per year, the people who for two years running have not had a raise in pay and whose take-home pay has actually been reduced because of increased insurance premiums - for those people I ask your help. I ask nothing for judges, but I ask you to find the means to help those whose work allows the judges to administer justice.

In view of the budget crisis, the Court is attempting to fashion its own proactive solutions by securing alternative sources of funding for one of its most important administrative efforts, the ongoing and immensely successful court automation program. For those of you who are new to the General Assembly, the court automation program is, in a word, the "computerization" of the judicial system, and its purpose is to give courts greater capacity to manage caseloads, to provide the general public with instant access to all public court records, and to improve essential communication between courts, law enforcement agencies, and other executive branch entities. The infrastructure has been completed statewide, and case management software is being used in about half of the courts. Although the original intent was to bring the remaining courts into the statewide system within the next few years, budget cuts have placed the program on hold. One exception is the 16th Judicial Circuit in Jackson County which, after a review of the several case management software programs throughout the country, decided to invest its own funds to expand its use of the state system. In fact, this alternative funding approach, which does not require state general revenue, has potential for other urban circuits as well, such as the City of St. Louis, where talks are underway for implementation of a project similar to that in Kansas City.

Some of you, particularly those who are lawyers, may have used the system's internet access called Case.Net, which is built on the case management software, and know full well that the promise of the court automation program - instant electronic access to court records open to the public - is now being met. The rest of you will find that you can access with ease everything from the courts' docket entries in any given case, to a judge's entire court calendar. And, for me, as one whose computer skills are far from proficient, the true test of the product is that even I can use it!

The Case.Net system was not the work of any vendor, but the result of the creativity and ingenuity of the employees of the Office of State Courts Administrator. You should know, too, that that creativity and ingenuity has been recognized on a national level. Just last summer, Case.Net received the "Best of Breed Award" from the Center for Digital Government, a think-tank of experts in the use of information technology at all levels of government. Indeed, Case.Net was one of 30 programs selected from more than 1,500 entries nationwide. Additionally, we recently received word that the court automation program was designated as a Computerworld Honors Program Laureate. This prestigious award means that the court automation program will be on file and available for study at such renowned institutions as Oxford, Harvard, MIT, and the Smithsonian Institution's National Museum of American History.

To be sure, the automation of the courts, which the legislature has strongly supported over the years, is bearing fruit for our Missouri citizens and serves as a model for the country. We are especially grateful to Senator Klindt and Representative Crowell, who have attended nearly every meeting of the statutory court automation committee since their appointment and who provide invaluable legislative input and oversight.

If the crisis with the budget is the most pressing concern of the General Assembly, the crisis in juvenile justice undoubtedly will command a good deal of your attention as well. At the outset, it is our pledge that we, the judges of this state, will do all in our power to correct the failures in the system whether or not those failures are of our own making. Investigations into alleged mishandling of juvenile court cases have been conducted by both the Governor's office and the Senate, and the reports have been submitted. A third investigation - a DFS performance audit by State Auditor Claire McCaskill - is pending, and I am grateful to her for affording me a preview of her findings. Although most of the focus has been on the Division of Family Services, I regret that in certain cases we judges have come under fire for being heavy-handed in the removal of children from their homes, for failing to provide timely hearings to the parents and families of those children who have been removed, and for failing to require the communication and cooperation between the courts and DFS necessary to protect the children. Whether the truth of the allegations is perception or reality, the unfortunate result, of course, is public distrust and a lack of confidence in the system.

Now that investigations have been made and problems have been identified, it is time for solutions. I ask, however, that those solutions be informed by the perspective of our judges - those who are the ultimate decision-makers - and that you keep in mind that many of the cases heard are exceedingly difficult and emotionally draining. In that regard, the nature of the complaints themselves point out the difficulty. On one hand, the charge is that judges too often remove kids unnecessarily; on the other hand, the charge is that too often kids are not removed soon enough. The fact is, in many cases, the evidence is conflicting - not so much in the determination that the children are subject to harm, but in the determination of who or what is the cause of the harm, and, more importantly, in the determination of how best to prevent the continued harm. I hope you understand why most judges tend to err on the side of protecting the kids.

I speak from my own hard experience as a prosecutor and former juvenile court judge. In those positions, one learns quickly of the unfathomable cruelty that can be inflicted on children. There is outrage against the perpetrators, and anguish and empathy for the victims, and a troubling sense of wonder that such cruelty can exist in our affluent and progressive society. I will not forget the awful details of the last case of child abuse I tried as a prosecutor. A six-year old boy had been locked alone in the basement of a house in Cape Girardeau by the boy's mother and her boyfriend, who then left the house for a weekend jaunt out of state. The basement had carpet, but no furniture, and there were two windows that were too high for the boy to reach, although they allowed him to hear the neighbor kids playing outside. He was given a blanket, a package of Twinkies and a soda, a couple of toys, and nothing else. If you have a sense of pity for the child in that makeshift prison, imagine the horror in his little eyes when the house caught fire. Though the house burned to the ground, a fireman-hero rescued the boy, unconscious and on the verge of death. On the operating table at the local hospital, physicians worked feverishly to resuscitate the boy, extricating gobs of white ash and black soot from his mouth and nose and throat, but as they were bringing him back to life, they were doubly alarmed at his pencil-thin arms and legs and his bloated belly. And sure enough, the secondary diagnosis was "failure to thrive," doctor's jargon for malnutrition. Miraculously, the boy survived and last heard is doing well in a placement overseas with his father's family. The mother was sentenced to time in the county jail, and the boyfriend, the main perpetrator, went to prison.

This case was not typical, but only because of the devastating fire. To the extent that cases can be characterized as typical, they most often involve children living with their unwed mother who is drug-addicted or alcoholic, barely functional and who is frequented by boyfriends who are abusive to her and her children both. In more cases than not, the fathers are unknown, absent, in jail, or are themselves drug-addicted, alcoholic and barely functional. The children in those typical cases are clearly in danger. The salvation is that when the authorities are notified of the situation, and the system works properly, the children will be removed and placed in a nurturing and loving foster-care setting, and the lucky ones eventually will be adopted out.

In many other cases, however, the evidence is equivocal and the dispositions unsure. I recall, in particular, a case I had as a juvenile court judge involving an 18-year old woman - an 18-year-old girl - who already had five children by five different fathers. This is no exaggeration! She was not a drug addict or an alcoholic, nor did she abuse her kids or allow others to harm them, at least physically, and those facts dictated against removing the kids. But her home was a revolving door for boyfriends who were often drugged or drunken, and she and the kids survived on little more than food stamps, Medicaid, and family housing subsidies. She had few parenting skills, just an eighth-grade education, and no relatives she could count on, and, as you would expect, most of the time she was rather desperate. DFS efforts to teach parenting skills and household management were only marginally successful.

Under any conception of "the best interests of the children" - the legal standard by which all court interventions are governed - the children should have been removed. And from time to time, they were removed, and more than once at the request of the mother, herself. The likelihood was that those kids would flourish in most any other environment, and that they would only fail with their mother. But a competing presumption of law in effect at the time of the case required all-out efforts for reunification of the family - which meant that the kids stayed with the mother. Under the law, then as now, kids are to be taken from their homes only if they are abused or neglected, not if the parents are poor and uneducated. And so it was, that for many months, until I left for my new position on the Supreme Court, I supported the rather valiant efforts of the juvenile officers and DFS workers on the outside chance that the young mother might eventually learn to adequately care for her own children.

Late yesterday afternoon, as I was finalizing my remarks, and realizing that my recollection of the young girl's case may be unduly harsh, I called Randy Rhodes, the chief juvenile officer in Cape Girardeau, to check my facts. Randy had been the juvenile officer assigned to the case, and he confirmed that my account of the case was accurate. As we finished the conversation, I asked, in passing, "Whatever happened to the girl?" To my surprise, he said that he saw her just a couple of weeks ago. And he told me this: Ten and a half years, and two more kids later, she is alive and well, she is stable and relatively self-supporting, and she has a job - a full-time job! - a job working for a sheriff's department across the river in Illinois, and even the kids have enjoyed a fair measure of success!

My goodness, how would it be if all the other families like hers fared half so well! But in my experience, unfortunately it is not that way. There are many failures, and the successful preservation of families, at least in the extreme cases like hers, is more the exception than the rule.

I have been on the bench for more than 15 years, and for 10 of those years, I have served on the Supreme Court, hearing the difficult, complex, and immensely important legal issues of the day. But the most difficult cases I have faced are child custody cases in the juvenile and family courts, the cases in which I was required to determine whether to favor one parent over another, or whether to take the kids from both. It was a time in my career that I relied on the sage advice of one of my predecessors in office, Judge Stanley Grimm, who capsulized the law in this unique way: He told me that a judge can take kids only from parents who rate a failing grade, not from parents who rate a D-. Too often, as I learned from the case of the 18-year old woman with five children, the difference between a D- and an F is murky and muddled, but the call must be made, and one hopes and prays that the children will be free from harm and somehow given a fair shake.

From these accounts and countless others like them, I hope you understand that there are so many pitiful and seemingly hopeless cases, cases that simply have no good answers, and that even with all the resources our society has to offer, and even with all the wisdom in the world, mistakes will be made, and tragedies will occur.

Agree with me on this proposition: When mistakes are made and when tragedies occur, the only acceptable response is to redouble our efforts to ensure that, in the future, decisions regarding the fate of our children are indeed made with all the resources we have to offer and all the wisdom we can muster.

Because we judges are the ultimate decision-makers in the cases, it is incumbent on us to take the lead. To that end, and with the blessing and encouragement of Senate President Pro Tem Kinder and House Speaker Hanaway and Governor Holden, himself, I am pleased to announce the formation of a commission composed primarily of judges and legislators, but also including key executive branch officials and other interested parties, to address the concerns raised in the several investigations, to review proposed legislative solutions, and to propose legislative changes of its own. The judges of this state ask that through the work of this commission, they be given input in the legislative process. We ask not to direct any legislation, but only that you hear our concerns, as we strive to hear yours, and we submit to you that the healthy interaction between judges and legislators, between representatives of co-equal branches of government, is the best way to yield the best product for our mutual constituents, our children.

There is precedent for this collaboration. In 1994, there was a crisis in juvenile justice that centered on juvenile delinquency rather than abused and neglected kids. The crisis then was born of a nationwide increase in juvenile crime coupled with the perception and, in some cases, the reality, that kids who committed crimes were going both unpunished and unrehabilitated. Just as today, people were wary of the system because of the secrecy of the proceedings. To meet that challenge, the Court, in cooperation with the General Assembly and the Department of Social Services, formed the Supreme Court Task Force on Children and Families, and just as today, the charge was to review proposed legislation and to propose legislation on its own. With helpful suggestions from the Task Force, the resulting enactments brought into better balance the competing interests of protecting society from juvenile offenders and offering those offenders, because of their tender age, a chance at redemption and rehabilitation. The rules on confidentiality were lifted in the more serious cases to provide for public scrutiny, and the rules for certification of youthful offenders to stand trial as adults were strengthened to make those offenders more accountable. At the beginning of the process, the legislative proposals were, as they say, "all over the board," but the legislation that was enacted was consensus legislation. It was legislation that was hailed at the time and that since has proven its worth. It has brought stability and respect, and has increased the public's trust and confidence in the system. In fact, the juvenile delinquency side of the juvenile justice system and especially the innovative programs of the Division of Youth Services under its longtime director Mark Steward, are among the finest in the nation. It is that performance and reputation that we must bring to the abuse and neglect side of the system. That is the aim of our new commission.

Senator Kinder and Speaker Hanaway are so enthused about the project that they have appointed themselves to the commission! The other members are Senators Bill Foster and Pat Dougherty, and Representatives Bryan Stevenson and Yvonne Wilson. The chair of the commission is Judge John C. Holstein of Springfield, who, as most of you know, is a former judge and Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and, more importantly, is a former judge of the juvenile court in West Plains, Missouri. Judge Holstein, would you please stand? Because time is of the essence, the work of the commission will begin immediately, and I mean immediately! Judge Holstein will meet with the legislative members this very afternoon.

In addition to the work of our joint commission, let me emphasize that much can and will be done outside the legislative process. Specifically, I am directing the judiciary to undertake the following measures:

1. We will prepare and publish a best practices manual for juvenile court judges so that we can implement, throughout the state, what we know that works, and I am pleased to advise you that the first portion of the manual is already in circulation;
2. We will promulgate time standards to ensure the timely processing of abuse and neglect cases;
3. We will ensure that whenever possible, children are placed first with qualified relatives before other alternatives are pursued; and this effort, too, already is being undertaken in every one of our juvenile courts;
4. With the cooperation of DFS, we will provide and mandate cross-training for all juvenile officers and DFS caseworkers and even the judges, themselves, so that everyone within the system knows the processes and personalities of each constituent part of the system; and
5. We will look very seriously at opening our court proceedings, at least to some extent, so that there is a better balance between the need to protect the privacy of children and the need to inform the public and shed light on the system.

Finally, so that your difficult legislative decisions will be as informed as possible, I invite you to participate - no, I urge you to participate - in a symposium for legislators sponsored by the Supreme Court and the Missouri Juvenile Justice Association to be held Monday afternoon, February 3, from 3 to 7 p.m., at a local hotel. In recognition of the immediacy and crucial importance of the juvenile justice issues, the legislative leadership has agreed to call you into session at 2 p.m. on that Monday afternoon, to do the necessary business at hand, and then to adjourn before 3 p.m., so that each of you can attend. Professor Douglas Abrams of the University of Missouri-Columbia School of Law will begin with a brief history of the tragedies and triumphs of Missouri's juvenile courts. A copy of Professor Abrams' new book - "A Very Special Place in Life" - which commemorates the 100th anniversary of the founding of the juvenile courts in this state, will be distributed to you at that time. Four of our juvenile and family court judges will then present the main program, complete with flow charts and handouts of pertinent statutes and an assortment of other useful materials. Each judge will focus on a different part of the system - cases involving abuse and neglect, cases involving what we call "status offenses" (runaways, truants and the like), cases involving juvenile delinquency, and the special extracurricular activities of our judges that are designed to reach children before they need to be admitted to the system in the first place. At 5 p.m., each of you will be assigned to one of six breakout groups organized by geographic region and staffed by your local juvenile court judges and juvenile officers, as well as local DFS, DYS and DMH caseworkers. For the next hour, you will be encouraged to ask questions and offer your suggestions about the system in general and about local implementation in particular. Following the breakout sessions, The Missouri Bar will sponsor an hour-long reception at the hotel to further the networking opportunities for all participants. By engaging in this dialogue and by opening the lines of communication, it is our profound hope, that at the end of the day, we can better respond to your concerns, and thus better serve our children.

To conclude, despite the current challenges, you will learn from Professor Abrams' book that Missouri has become a national leader in many social reforms that have served and continue to serve the best interests of children and, indeed, Missouri boasts a remarkable heritage of leadership and innovation that forms the perfect foundation for our actions today and in the future. To build on that rich heritage, we must cooperate and collaborate. We must find ourselves on the same page. We must have a common understanding of the problems. We must devote our full resources to the solutions. And together, we must win the day for our children.

And why this common commitment? It is because our goal is the same. Our goal is the same! And it is simply this: A safe home, and a loving family, for every child.

Thank you.

On motion of Senator Gibbons, the Joint Session was dissolved and the Senators returned to the Chamber where they were called to order by Senator Shields.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Loudon offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 3

WHEREAS, Missouri law requires parental consent of at least one parent in order for a minor to obtain an abortion, unless excused by a court; and

WHEREAS, Illinois law contains no such parental consent requirement; and

WHEREAS, as a result, Missouri resident minors may cross the state border to Illinois to access abortion providers in order to avoid state law; and

WHEREAS, Illinois abortion providers advertise in Missouri phone books that "no parental consent (is required) in Illinois", and by so doing, actively encourage the breaking of Missouri law and violation of parental rights over the welfare of their daughters:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby implore the General Assembly of the State of Illinois either to enact a law to require parental consent prior to allowing a minor to obtain an abortion or, if no such law is enacted, that the State of Illinois recognize Missouri law requiring parental consent prior to allowing a minor to obtain an abortion; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution to the Governor of Illinois, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House for the State of Illinois.

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

The following message was received from the House of Representatives through its Chief Clerk:

Mr President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and passed HCS for HCR 6.

HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR
HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 6

Rejecting the amount of increase in compensation for public officials as recommended by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials.

WHEREAS, in November 1994, the people of Missouri established in the Missouri Constitution an independent citizen's commission that was given primary responsibility to establish a schedule of compensation for public officials based upon a review and study of the duties of elected state officials, judges and members of the General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, the Commission has faithfully undertaken its responsibility and submitted a compensation schedule that provides for an increase in compensation for the affected public officials in the amount of 5.8% and an increase for judges in the amount of $6,000 per year; and

WHEREAS, the percentage increase recommended by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials was based upon recommendations made by the Personnel Advisory Board and the Missouri Commission on Total Compensation for all state employees for fiscal year 2004; and

WHEREAS, the Citizen's Commission report makes clear that the Commission intended public officials should be treated the same as all other state employees; and

WHEREAS, the increases ultimately adopted for all state employees may well not be those recommended by the Commission when its schedule was approved and filed; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly believes that public officials and judges should not receive any cost-of-living increase in compensation, if at all, in excess of the average salary adjustment provided to other state employees; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Constitution clearly provides that the recommendations of the Commission are subject to appropriations, and therefore may be reduced or rejected by the General Assembly and no increase shall take effect unless and until appropriated:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, that we hereby reject the Compensation Schedule of the 2002 Report and Compensation Schedule of the Missouri Citizens Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials dated, November 27, 2002.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Stoll offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 6

WHEREAS, the Government Pension Offset (GPO) and Windfall Elimination Provision (WEP) of the federal Social Security Act penalize people who have dedicated their lives to public service by taking away benefits they have earned; and

WHEREAS, nine out of ten public employees affected by the GPO lose their entire spousal benefit, even though their spouse paid Social Security taxes for many years; and

WHEREAS, the WEP causes hard-working people to lose up to sixty percent of the benefits they earned themselves; and

WHEREAS, many workers rely on misleading Social Security Administration statements that fail to take into account the GPO and WEP when projecting benefits; and

WHEREAS, the impact of the GPO and WEP is not just felt in those states in which public employees, including educators, are not covered by Social Security, because people move from state to state and affected individuals are everywhere; and

WHEREAS, the GPO and WEP apply to all vested members of the Public School Retirement System of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the number of people affected across the country is growing every day as more and more people reach retirement age; and

WHEREAS, some 300,000 individuals lose an average of $3,600 a year due to the GPO; and

WHEREAS, this amount can make the difference between self-sufficiency and poverty; and

WHEREAS, these people have less money to spend in their local economy and sometimes have to turn to expensive government programs like food stamps to make ends meet; and

WHEREAS, during a national teacher shortage, the GPO and WEP discourage people from entering and staying in the teaching profession, since doing so will mean a loss of earned Social Security benefits; and

WHEREAS, the GPO and WEP are also causing current educators to leave the profession and students to choose courses of study other than education; and

WHEREAS, non-Social Security states are finding it increasingly difficult to attract quality educators as more people learn about the GPO and WEP; and

WHEREAS, the nation should respect, not penalize, public service; and

WHEREAS, the GPO and WEP are established in federal law and repeal of the GPO and WEP can only be enacted by the United States Congress:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the Congress of the United States to immediately repeal the Government Pension Offset and Windfall Elimination Provision of the Social Security Act; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and the members of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 2

Amend Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 246, Page 6, Section 386.210, Line 73, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"392.200. 1. Every telecommunications company shall furnish and provide with respect to its business such instrumentalities and facilities as shall be adequate and in all respects just and reasonable. All charges made and demanded by any telecommunications company for any service rendered or to be rendered in connection therewith shall be just and reasonable and not more than allowed by law or by order or decision of the commission. Every unjust or unreasonable charge made or demanded for any such service or in connection therewith or in excess of that allowed by law or by order or decision of the commission is prohibited and declared to be unlawful.

2. No telecommunications company shall directly or indirectly or by any special rate, rebate, drawback or other device or method charge, demand, collect or receive from any person or corporation a greater or less compensation for any service rendered or to be rendered with respect to telecommunications or in connection therewith, except as authorized in this chapter, than it charges, demands, collects or receives from any other person or corporation for doing a like and contemporaneous service with respect to telecommunications under the same or substantially the same circumstances and conditions. Promotional programs for telecommunications services may be offered by telecommunications companies for periods of time so long as the offer is otherwise consistent with the provisions of this chapter and approved by the commission. Neither this subsection nor subsection 3 of this section shall be construed to prohibit an economy rate telephone service offering. This section and section 392.220 to the contrary notwithstanding, the commission is authorized to approve tariffs filed by local exchange telecommunications companies which elect to provide reduced charges for residential telecommunications connection services pursuant to the lifeline connection assistance plan as promulgated by the federal communications commission. Eligible subscribers for such connection services shall be those as defined by participating local exchange telecommunications company tariffs.

3. No telecommunications company shall make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to any person, corporation or locality, or subject any particular person, corporation or locality to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage in any respect whatsoever except that telecommunications messages may be classified into such classes as are just and reasonable, and different rates may be charged for the different classes of messages.

4. (1) No telecommunications company may define a telecommunications service as a different telecommunications service based on the geographic area or other market segmentation within which such telecommunications service is offered or provided, unless the telecommunications company makes application and files a tariff or tariffs which propose relief from this subsection. Any such tariff shall be subject to the provisions of sections 392.220 and 392.230 and in any hearing thereon the burden shall be on the telecommunications company to show, by clear and convincing evidence, that the definition of such service based on the geographic area or other market within which such service is offered is reasonably necessary to promote the public interest and the purposes and policies of this chapter.

(2) It is the intent of this act to bring the benefits of competition to all customers and to ensure that incumbent and alternative local exchange telecommunications companies have the opportunity to price and market telecommunications services to all prospective customers in any geographic area in which they compete. To promote the goals of the federal Telecommunications Act of 1996, for an incumbent local exchange telecommunications company in any exchange where an alternative local exchange telecommunications company has been certified and is providing basic local telecommunications services or switched exchange access services, or for an alternative local exchange telecommunications company, the commission shall review and approve or reject, within forty-five days of filing, tariffs for proposed different services as follows:

(a) For services proposed on an exchange-wide basis, it shall be presumed that a tariff which defines and establishes prices for a local exchange telecommunications service or exchange access service as a different telecommunications service in the geographic area, no smaller than an exchange, within which such local exchange telecommunications service or exchange access service is offered is reasonably necessary to promote the public interest and the purposes and policies of this chapter;

(b) For services proposed in a geographic area smaller than an exchange or other market segmentation within which or to whom such telecommunications service is proposed to be offered, a local exchange telecommunications company may petition the commission to define and establish a local exchange telecommunications service or exchange access service as a different local exchange telecommunications service or exchange access service. The commission shall approve such a proposal if it finds, based upon clear and convincing evidence, that such service in a smaller geographic area or such other market segmentation is in the public interest and is reasonably necessary to promote competition and the purposes of this chapter. Upon approval of such a smaller geographic area or such other market segmentation for a different service for one local exchange telecommunications company, all other local exchange telecommunications companies certified to provide service in that exchange may file a tariff to use such smaller geographic area or such other market segmentation to provide that service;

(c) For proposed different services described in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subdivision, the local exchange telecommunications company which files a tariff to provide such service shall provide the service to all similarly situated customers, upon request in accordance with that company's approved tariff, in the exchange or geographic area smaller than an exchange or such other market segmentation for which the tariff was filed, and no price proposed for such service by an incumbent local exchange telecommunications company, other than for a competitive service, shall be lower than its long run incremental cost, as defined in section 386.020, RSMo;

(3) The commission, on its own motion or upon motion of the public counsel, may by order, after notice and hearing, define a telecommunications service offered or provided by a telecommunications company as a different telecommunications service dependent upon the geographic area or other market within which such telecommunications service is offered or provided and apply different service classifications to such service only upon a finding, based on clear and convincing evidence, that such different treatment is reasonably necessary to promote the public interest and the purposes and policies of this chapter.

5. No telecommunications company may charge a different price per minute or other unit of measure for the same, substitutable, or equivalent interexchange telecommunications service provided over the same or equivalent distance between two points without filing a tariff for the offer or provision of such service pursuant to sections 392.220 and 392.230. In any proceeding under sections 392.220 and 392.230 wherein a telecommunications company seeks to charge a different price per minute or other unit of measure for the same, substitutable, or equivalent interexchange service, the burden shall be on the subject telecommunications company to show that such charges are in the public interest and consistent with the provisions and purposes of this chapter. The commission may modify or prohibit such charges if the subject telecommunications company fails to show that such charges are in the public interest and consistent with the provisions and purposes of this chapter. This subsection shall not apply to reasonable price discounts based on the volume of service provided, so long as such discounts are nondiscriminatory and offered under the same rates, terms, and conditions throughout a telecommunications company's certificated or service area.

6. Every telecommunications company operating in this state shall receive, transmit and deliver, without discrimination or delay, the conversations and messages of every other telecommunications company with whose facilities a connection may have been made.

7. The commission shall have power to provide the limits within which tele-communications messages shall be delivered without extra charge.

8. Customer specific pricing is authorized for dedicated, nonswitched, private line and special access services and for central office-based switching systems which substitute for customer premise, private branch exchange (PBX) services, provided such customer specific pricing shall be equally available to incumbent and alternative local exchange telecommunications companies.

9. This act shall not be construed to prohibit the commission, upon determining that it is in the public interest, from altering local exchange boundaries, provided that the incumbent local exchange telecommunications company or companies serving each exchange for which the boundaries are altered provide notice to the commission that the companies approve the alteration of exchange boundaries.

10. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, every telecommunications company is authorized to offer term agreements of up to five years on any of its telecommunications services.

11. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, every telecommunications company is authorized to offer discounted rates or other special promotions on any of its telecommunications services to any new or former customers."; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Gross moved that the above amendment be adopted.

Senator Jacob raised the point of order that SA 2 is out of order in that the amendment goes beyond the scope of the original bill.

The point of order was referred to the President Pro Tem.

Senator Childers assumed the Chair.

President Pro Tem Kinder ruled the point of order on SA 2 not well taken.

Senator Bartle assumed the Chair.

SA 2 was again taken up.

Senator Gross moved that the above amendment be adopted, which motion prevailed.

Senator Jacob offered SA 3:

No such termination of water service may occur until [thirty] ninety days after the sewer corporation, municipality or statutory sewer district or sewer district created and organized pursuant to constitutional authority sends a written notice to the customer by certified mail, except that if the water corporation, municipality or public water supply district is performing a combined water and sewer billing service for the sewer corporation, municipality or sewer district, no additional notice or any additional waiting period shall be required other than the notice and waiting period already used by the water corporation, municipality or public water supply district to disconnect water service for nonpayment of the water bill. Acting pursuant to a contract, the water corporation, municipality or public water supply district shall discontinue water service until such time as the sewer charges and all related costs of termination and reestablishment of sewer and water services are paid by the customer.

WHEREAS, Joe Lonero enjoys selection as the first-ever Citizen of the Year by the North County Chamber of Commerce, an award of which he is exceptionally deserving because of his lifetime of unselfish assistance to his neighbors and fellow business persons; and

WHEREAS, dedicated to enlivening the old Ferguson business district, Joe Lonero and his beloved wife, Sue, now own three local businesses, including Lonero Auto Body, the Corner Coffee House, and Vincenzo's Ristorante; and

WHEREAS, the trolley running along Florissant Road with stops at various restaurants and shops was Joe Lonero's idea, as was encouraging Bud and Dorothy Seiter to publish the Ferguson Times; and

WHEREAS, Joe Lonero was the motivating factor behind the construction of the area's gazebo, laying of a brick walk, engineering of a new versa lock wall in front of the Victoria Plaza fountain, and retrieval of the town clock in time for the July 4, 2001, Independence Day celebrations; and

Senators Shields and Gibbons offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 9

WHEREAS, the use of prescription drugs improves the quality of care and helps patients live healthier, longer, and more productive lives while keeping them out of more costly acute care settings in the long term; and

WHEREAS, the increased use of new and improved prescription drugs has changed the delivery of health care in the United States since Medicare was enacted, and while two-thirds of the Medicare population has some form of prescription drug coverage, although many times inadequate, one-third of Medicare beneficiaries have no coverage at all; and

WHEREAS, Congress did not enact a drug benefit in the Medicare program, therefore the program is inadequate in providing the elderly and disabled the most appropriate drug therapies, preventing the delivery of quality health care at an affordable cost; and

WHEREAS, the private sector provides affordable coverage by negotiating discounts on drugs and meeting the needs of special populations with chronic diseases and those with co-morbidities through coordinating care with disease management, drug utilization review, and patient education programs, all of which aid in ameliorating medical errors; and

WHEREAS, comprehensive reform of the Medicare program would utilize the successful tools of the private sector in coordinating care for this population and use the marketplace to foster competition among private plans, resulting in more choices of quality coverage for seniors and the disabled while maintaining the financial sustainability of the program; and

WHEREAS, the failure of Congress to provide for comprehensive reform of Medicare and the encouraging of states to use their own resources to ease the burden of the elderly and disabled Medicare populations, in effect, result in an unfunded informal mandate on the states; and

WHEREAS, in implementing state programs to assist the Medicare population, state budgetary constraints can often result in requirements to restrict and limit patient access to needed prescription drugs, and the enactment of anti-competitive price controls:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Ninety-second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby request that the United States Congress enact financially sustainable, voluntary, universal, and privately administered out-patient prescription drug coverage as part of the federal Medicare program; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for each member of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

Senator Bartle offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 10

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the Ninety-second General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the Missouri Committee on Legislative Research shall prepare and cause to be collated, indexed, printed and bound all acts and resolutions of the Ninety-second General Assembly, First Regular Session, and shall examine the printed copies and compare them with and correct the same by the original rolls, together with an attestation under the hand of the Revisor of Statutes that she has compared the same with the original rolls in her office and has corrected the same thereby; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the size and quality of the paper and binding shall be substantially the same as used in prior session laws and the size and style of type shall be determined by the Revisor of Statutes; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Joint Committee on Legislative Research is authorized to print and bind copies of the acts and resolutions of the Ninety-second General Assembly, First Regular Session, with appropriate indexing; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Revisor of Statutes is authorized to determine the number of copies to be printed.

Senator Bartle requested unanimous consent of the Senate that the rules be suspended and that SCR 10 be taken up, which request was granted.

Senator Bartle moved that SCR 10 be adopted, which motion prevailed by the following vote:

Relating to the creation of the comprehensive patient education and health care cost improvement pilot project.

WHEREAS, in order to continue to provide improved services to patients in this state, improving patient information regarding elective surgical procedures and their risks and complications is needed; and

WHEREAS, the lack of information regarding surgery, surgical risks, and post surgical complications contributes to patient dissatisfaction, over-utilization of the health care system, malpractice claims, and the rising cost of healthcare; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Health and Senior Services, in conjunction with the Department of Insurance and the University of Missouri-Kansas City Hospitals and Clinics, shall establish the "Comprehensive Patient Education and Healthcare Cost Improvement Pilot Program" which will develop and incorporate effective patient education programs into the preoperative consultation and informed consent process; and

WHEREAS, the Comprehensive Patient Education and Healthcare Cost Improvement Pilot Program shall be implemented no later than six months after funding for the pilot program is made available, and shall have a duration of three years; and

WHEREAS, the Comprehensive Patient Education and Healthcare Cost Improvement Pilot Program shall, prior to the patient consenting to elective surgery:

- (1) Use an educational system that visually explains to the patient in simple terms the entire surgical procedure;

WHEREAS, the Department of Health and Senior Services shall monitor the pilot program and report to the Director of the Department of Insurance and the General Assembly on the effectiveness of such program by the second week of the regular session of the General Assembly in the next session following completion of the Pilot Program; and

WHEREAS, the report shall include an analysis of the advantages and disadvantages of the patient education process, including but not limited to:

- (1) The effect of the Pilot Program on the reduction of medical malpractice claims;
- (2) Patient satisfaction concerning the education process;
- (3) Doctors' feedback concerning the Pilot Program;
- (4) Total number of surgical procedures performed;
- (5) A comparison of Medicaid dollars spent on relevant surgical procedures versus the previous year and projected year; and
- (6) Suggestions for improving the educational system or its implementation, if any;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby direct the Department of Health and Senior Services to create the "Comprehensive Patient Education and Healthcare Cost Improvement Pilot Program"; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to send this resolution to the Governor for his approval or rejection pursuant to the Missouri Constitution.

"168.071. 1. The state board of education may refuse to issue or renew a certificate, or may, upon hearing, discipline the holder of a certificate of license to teach for the following causes:

(1) A certificate holder or applicant for a certificate has pleaded to or been found guilty of a felony or crime involving moral turpitude under the laws of this state, any other state, of the United States, or any other country, whether or not sentence is imposed;

(2) The certification was obtained through use of fraud, deception, misrepresentation or bribery;

(3) There is evidence of incompetence, immorality, or neglect of duty by the certificate holder;

(4) A certificate holder has been subject to disciplinary action relating to certification issued by another state, territory, federal agency, or country upon grounds for which discipline is authorized in this section; or

(5) If charges are filed by the local board of education, based upon the annulling of a written contract with the local board of education, for reasons other than election to the general assembly, without the consent of the majority of the members of the board that is a party to the contract.

2. A public school district may file charges seeking the discipline of a holder of a certificate of license to teach based upon any cause or combination of causes outlined in subsection 1 of this section, including annulment of a written contract. Charges shall be in writing, specify the basis for the charges, and be signed by the chief administrative officer of the district, or by the president of the board of education as authorized by a majority of the board of education. The board of education may also petition the office of the attorney general to file charges on behalf of the school district for any cause other than annulment of contract, with acceptance of the petition at the discretion of the attorney general.

3. The department of elementary and secondary education may file charges seeking the discipline of a holder of a certificate of license to teach based upon any cause or combination of causes outlined in subsection 1 of this section, other than annulment of contract. Charges shall be in writing, specify the basis for the charges, and be signed by legal counsel representing the department of elementary and secondary education.

4. If the underlying conduct or actions which are the basis for charges filed pursuant to this section are also the subject of a pending criminal charge against the person holding such certificate, the certificate holder may request, in writing, a delayed hearing on advice of counsel under the fifth amendment of the Constitution of the United States. Based upon such a request, no hearing shall be held until after a trial has been completed on this criminal charge.

5. The certificate holder shall be given not less than thirty days' notice of any hearing held pursuant to this section.

6. Other provisions of this section notwithstanding, the certificate of license to teach shall be revoked or, in the case of an applicant, a certificate shall not be issued, if the certificate holder or applicant has pleaded guilty to or been found guilty of any of the following offenses established pursuant to Missouri law or offenses of a similar nature established under the laws of any other state or of the United States, or any other country, whether or not the sentence is imposed:

7. The certificate holder whose certificate was revoked pursuant to subsection 6 of this section may appeal such revocation to the state board of education. Notice of this appeal must be received by the commissioner of education within ninety days of notice of revocation pursuant to this subsection. Failure of the certificate holder to notify the commissioner of the intent to appeal waives all rights to appeal the revocation. Upon notice of the certificate holder's intent to appeal, an appeal hearing shall be held by a hearing officer designated by the commissioner of education, with the final decision made by the state board of education, based upon the record of that hearing. The certificate holder shall be given not less than thirty days' notice of the hearing, and an opportunity to be heard by the hearing officer, together with witnesses.

8. In the case of any certificate holder who has surrendered or failed to renew his or her certificate of license to teach, the state board of education may refuse to issue or renew, or may suspend or revoke, such certificate for any of the reasons contained in this section.

9. In those cases where the charges filed pursuant to this section are based upon an allegation of misconduct involving a minor child, the hearing officer may accept into the record the sworn testimony of the minor child relating to the misconduct received in any court or administrative hearing.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 5

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 36, Page 9, Section 640.018.4, Line 14, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"444.770. 1. It shall be unlawful for any operator to engage in surface mining without first obtaining from the commission a permit to do so, in such form as is hereinafter provided, including any operator involved in any gravel mining operation where the annual tonnage of gravel mined by such operator is less than five thousand tons.

2. Sections 444.760 to 444.790 shall apply only to those areas which are opened on or after January 1, 1972, or to the extended portion of affected areas extended after that date. The effective date of this section for minerals not previously covered under the provisions of sections 444.760 to 444.790 shall be August 28, 1990.

3. All surface mining operations where land is affected after September 28, 1971, which are under the control of any government agency whose regulations are equal to or greater than those imposed by section 444.774, are not subject to the further provisions of sections 444.760 to 444.790, except that such operations shall be registered with the land reclamation commission.

4. Any portion of a surface mining operation which is subject to the provisions of sections 260.200 to 260.245, RSMo, and the regulations promulgated thereunder, shall not be subject to the provisions of sections 444.760 to 444.790, and any bonds or portions thereof applicable to such operations shall be promptly released by the commission, and the associated permits canceled by the commission upon presentation to it of satisfactory evidence that the operator has received a permit pursuant to section 260.205, RSMo, and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Any land reclamation bond associated with such released permits shall be retained by the commission until presentation to the commission of satisfactory evidence that:

(1) The operator has complied with sections 260.226 and 260.227, RSMo, and the regulations promulgated thereunder, pertaining to closure and postclosure plans and financial assurance instruments; and

(2) The operator has commenced operation of the solid waste disposal area or sanitary landfill as those terms are defined in chapter 260, RSMo.

5. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection 1 of this section, any political subdivision which uses its own personnel and equipment or contracts for excavation to obtain sand or gravel material limited to its own use or any private individual for personal use may conduct in-stream gravel operations without obtaining from the commission a permit to conduct such an activity.

6. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection 1 of this section, any operator who does not engage in any form of surface mining other than in-stream sand and gravel mining, and who mines less than five thousand tons of material annually from in-stream sand and gravel operations, shall not be required to obtain a permit from the commission. However, the department of natural resources may establish excavation standards for those operators exempt from requirements to be permitted pursuant to this subsection. Such excavation standards shall not be more stringent than those required of permitted operators. In the event an operator violates the excavation standards, the department of natural resources may require the operator to apply for a permit to continue operating at such site of excavation.

444.772. 1. Subject to the limitations set forth in section 444.770, any operator desiring to engage in surface mining shall make written application to the director for a permit.

2. Application for permit shall be made on a form prescribed by the commission and shall include:

(1) The name of all persons with any interest in the land to be mined;

(2) The source of the applicant's legal right to mine the land affected by the permit;

(3) The permanent and temporary post office address of the applicant;

(4) Whether the applicant or any person associated with the applicant holds or has held any other permits pursuant to sections 444.500 to 444.790, and an identification of such permits;

(5) The written consent of the applicant and any other persons necessary to grant access to the commission or the director to the area of land affected under application from the date of application until the expiration of any permit granted under the application and thereafter for such time as is necessary to assure compliance with all provisions of sections 444.500 to 444.790 or any rule or regulation promulgated pursuant to them. Permit applications submitted by operators who mine an annual tonnage of less than ten thousand tons shall be required to include written consent from the operator to grant access to the commission or the director to the area of land affected;

(6) A description of the tract or tracts of land and the estimated number of acres thereof to be affected by the surface mining of the applicant for the next succeeding twelve months; and

(7) Such other information that the commission may require as such information applies to land reclamation.

3. The application for a permit shall be accompanied by a map in a scale and form specified by the commission by regulation.

4. The application shall be accompanied by a bond, security or certificate meeting the requirements of section 444.778 and a permit fee approved by the commission not to exceed six hundred dollars. The commission may also require a fee for each site listed on a permit not to exceed three hundred dollars for each site. If mining operations are not conducted at a site for six months or more during any year, the fee for such site for that year shall be reduced by fifty percent. The commission may also require a fee for each acre bonded by the operator pursuant to section 444.778 not to exceed ten dollars per acre. If such fee is assessed, the per-acre fee on all acres bonded by a single operator that exceed a total of one hundred acres shall be reduced by fifty percent. In no case shall the total fee for any permit be more than two thousand five hundred dollars. Permit and renewal fees shall be established by rule and shall be set at levels that recover the cost of administering and enforcing sections 444.760 to 444.790, making allowances for grants and other sources of funds. The director shall submit a report to the commission and the public each year that describes the number of employees and the activities performed the previous calendar year to administer sections 444.760 to 444.790. [For any operator of a gravel mining operation where the annual tonnage of gravel mined by such operator is less than five thousand tons, the total cost of submitting an application shall be three hundred dollars.] The issued permit shall be valid from the date of its issuance until the date specified in the mine plan unless sooner revoked or suspended as provided in sections 444.760 to 444.790.

5. An operator desiring to have his or her permit amended to cover additional land may file an amended application with the commission. Upon receipt of the amended application, and such additional fee and bond as may be required pursuant to the provisions of sections 444.760 to 444.790, the director shall, if the applicant complies with all applicable regulatory requirements, issue an amendment to the original permit covering the additional land described in the amended application.

6. An operation may withdraw any land covered by a permit, excepting affected land, by notifying the commission thereof, in which case the penalty of the bond or security filed by the operator pursuant to the provisions of sections 444.760 to 444.790 shall be reduced proportionately.

7. Where mining or reclamation operations on acreage for which a permit has been issued have not been completed, the permit shall be renewed. The operator shall submit a permit renewal form furnished by the director for an additional permit year and pay a fee equal to an application fee calculated pursuant to subsection 4 of this section, but in no case shall the renewal fee for any operator be more than two thousand five hundred dollars. [For any operator involved in any gravel mining operation where the annual tonnage of gravel mined by such operator is less than five thousand tons, the permit as to such acreage shall be renewed by applying on a permit renewal form furnished by the director for an additional permit year and payment of a fee of three hundred dollars.] Upon receipt of the completed permit renewal form and fee from the operator, the director shall approve the renewal. With approval of the director and operator, the permit renewal may be extended for a portion of an additional year with a corresponding prorating of the renewal fee.

8. Where one operator succeeds another at any uncompleted operation, either by sale, assignment, lease or otherwise, the commission may release the first operator from all liability pursuant to sections 444.760 to 444.790 as to that particular operation if both operators have been issued a permit and have otherwise complied with the requirements of sections 444.760 to 444.790 and the successor operator assumes as part of his or her obligation pursuant to sections 444.760 to 444.790 all liability for the reclamation of the area of land affected by the former operator.

9. The application for a permit shall be accompanied by a plan of reclamation that meets the requirements of sections 444.760 to 444.790 and the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto, and shall contain a verified statement by the operator setting forth the proposed method of operation, reclamation, and a conservation plan for the affected area including approximate dates and time of completion, and stating that the operation will meet the requirements of sections 444.760 to 444.790, and any rule or regulation promulgated pursuant to them.

10. At the time that a permit application is deemed complete by the director, the operator shall publish a notice of intent to operate a surface mine in any newspaper qualified pursuant to section 493.050, RSMo, to publish legal notices in any county where the land is located. If the director does not respond to a permit application within forty-five calendar days, the application shall be deemed to be complete. Notice in the newspaper shall be posted once a week for four consecutive weeks beginning no more than ten days after the application is deemed complete. The operator shall also send notice of intent to operate a surface mine by certified mail to the governing body of the counties or cities in which the proposed area is located, and to the last known addresses of all record landowners of contiguous real property or real property located adjacent to the proposed mine plan area. The notices shall include the name and address of the operator, a legal description consisting of county, section, township and range, the number of acres involved, a statement that the operator plans to mine a specified mineral during a specified time, and the address of the commission. The notices shall also contain a statement that any person with a direct, personal interest in one or more of the factors the commission may consider in issuing a permit may request a public meeting, a public hearing or file written comments to the director no later than fifteen days following the final public notice publication date.

11. The commission may approve a permit application or permit amendment whose operation or reclamation plan deviates from the requirements of sections 444.760 to 444.790 if it can be demonstrated by the operator that the conditions present at the surface mining location warrant an exception. The criteria accepted for consideration when evaluating the merits of an exception or variance to the requirements of sections 444.760 to 444.790 shall be established by regulations.

12. Fees imposed pursuant to this section shall become effective August 28, 2001, and shall expire on December 31, 2007. No other provisions of this section shall expire."; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Steelman moved that the above amendment be adopted.

At the request of Senator Klindt, SB 36, with SCS, SS for SCS and SA 5 (pending), was placed on the Informal Calendar.

5. If the fees or any portion of the fees imposed by this section are not paid by the date prescribed for such payment, there shall be imposed interest upon the unpaid amount at the rate of ten percent per annum from the date prescribed for its payment until payment is actually made, sixty percent of which shall be deposited in the hazardous waste remedial fund, forty percent of which shall be deposited in the hazardous waste fund.

260.479. 1. The hazardous waste management commission shall establish, by rule, two subdivisions of hazardous waste based upon the management method. Subdivision A shall include waste which is placed in a hazardous waste disposal facility or which is stored for a period of more than one hundred eighty days; provided, however, for the purposes of this section, the commission may identify hazardous waste which shall be taxed pursuant to subdivision A when stored for longer than ninety days as well as waste which may be stored for up to one year and taxed as provided in subdivision B below. Subdivision B shall include all other hazardous waste produced. The director shall annually request that a minimum of one million dollars be appropriated from general revenue funds for deposit in the hazardous waste remedial fund created pursuant to section 260.480.

2. (1) For subdivision A waste, the fee shall be equal to 0.90785 times the amount of waste in short tons times the following sum: twenty-one dollars and eighty cents plus the product of 7.9890 cents times the amount of waste in short tons, except that the fee for subdivision A waste shall not exceed eighty thousand dollars; and

(2) For subdivision B waste, the fee shall be equal to 0.90785 times the amount of waste in short tons times the following sum: ten dollars and ninety cents plus the product of 3.9945 cents times the amount of waste in short tons, except that the fee for subdivision B waste shall not exceed forty thousand dollars.

4. Any hazardous waste generator registered with the department which discharges waste to a publicly owned

When the commission adopts hazardous waste categories, it shall establish and annually revise a fee schedule based upon waste characteristics. Each generator shall annually pay a fee, in lieu of the fee required in subsection 2 of this section, based upon the volume of waste produced annually within each hazard category.

7. All fees within this section shall be based on hazardous waste produced within the preceding state fiscal year beginning with July first of the year this section goes into effect and payable at the end of the calendar year on December thirty-first and annually thereafter in the same manner; provided that no liability for fees shall be accrued pursuant to subsection 5 of this section for any waste used as a fuel prior to August 28, 2000.

8. The department shall promptly transmit sixty percent of all funds collected pursuant to this section to the director of revenue for deposit in the hazardous waste remedial fund created pursuant to section 260.480. The department shall promptly transmit forty percent of all funds collected pursuant to this section to the director of revenue for deposit in the hazardous waste fund created pursuant to section 260.391.

9. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, no tax based on the number of employees employed by a hazardous waste generator shall be collected. No tax or fee shall be levied pursuant to this section after January 1, [2005] 2010."; and

The ballot of submission shall be in substantially the following form:

Shall the county of (insert name of county) impose a landfill fee of (insert amount of fee per ton or volumetric equivalent of solid waste)?

[] YES [] NO

If a majority of the votes cast on the proposal by the qualified voters voting thereon are in favor of the proposal, then the order or ordinance and any amendments thereto shall become effective on the first day of the calendar quarter immediately after such election results are certified. If a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters voting are opposed to the proposal, then the governing body of the county shall have no power to impose the fee authorized by this section unless and until the governing body of the county shall again have submitted another proposal to authorize the governing body of the county to impose such fee, and the proposal is approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon. If an economic development authority does not exist in a county at the time that a landfill fee is adopted by such county under this section, then the governing body of such county shall establish an economic development authority in the county.

2. The charges established in this section shall be enumerated separately from any disposal fee charged by the landfill. After January 1, 1994, the fee authorized under section 260.830 and this section shall be stated as a separate surcharge on each individual solid waste collection customer's invoice and shall also name the economic development authority which receives the funds. Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and passed HCR 15.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 15

Relating to the designation of March 6th as Lymphedema D-Day in Missouri.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, AS FOLLOWS:

Whereas, lymphedema is an accumulation of lymphatic fluid that causes swelling in the arms, legs, or other areas of the body and affects both men and women; and

Whereas, the swelling caused by lymphedema can lead to severe infection or loss of the use of limbs, and patients suffering from lymphedema must endure physical discomfort and disfigurement and cope with the distress caused by these symptoms; and

Whereas, the single largest group of people who get lymphedema are cancer patients, including breast, prostate, gynecological, head, neck, lung, sarcoma, and melanoma patients; and

Whereas, in the Western world, breast cancer and its treatments are the leading causes of lymphedema, and more than two million women living with breast cancer in this country are at risk for development of lymphedema throughout their lifetimes; and

Whereas, recent studies have indicated that twenty percent of breast cancer patients will get lymphedema after surgery and radiation; and

Whereas, according to the National Cancer Institute, there are a reported eight and a half million Americans living after a diagnosis of cancer, of which about two million are breast cancer survivors; and

Whereas, no drug or effective surgical treatment for lymphedema currently exists; and

Whereas, while research in all areas of lymphedema has been notably limited, the University of Missouri Health Care System is currently conducting groundbreaking research at the University of Missouri's Ellis Fischel Cancer Center and Sinclair School of Nursing through a project funded by a $1.6 million grant from the National Institutes of Health and a grant from the University of Iowa Gerontological Research Nursing Intervention center. The research findings will increase understanding of lymphedema risk factors, onset, and intervention, thereby helping to improve quality of life in cancer survivorship; and

Whereas, this research, led by nationally recognized Dr. Jane Armer and conducted by a team of multi-disciplinary researchers, will focus on the psychosocial impacts of lymphedema and the affects of lymphedema on families and addresses the under-diagnosed and under-recognition of this condition by health care providers; and

Whereas, lymphedema, which has no cure and can occur at any time, has a severe financial, physical, and psychological impact on patients; and

Whereas, each year on March 6th, the National Lymphedema Network sponsors Lymphedema D-Day to honor patients and to raise awareness of the treatment and severity of this condition:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby designate March 6th, in 2003 and each subsequent year, as Lymphedema D-Day in Missouri; and

Be it further resolved that the members of the General Assembly encourage the citizens of the State of Missouri to honor and support the courageous patients living and coping with this debilitating condition; and

Be it further resolved that this resolution be sent to the Governor for his approval or rejection pursuant to the Missouri Constitution.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Read 1st time.

Journal of the Senate
FIRST REGULAR SESSION

THIRTY-THIRD DAY--THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 2003

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Shields in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

"Be still and know that I am God." (Psalm 46:10a)

Merciful God, help us to find time each day to be still and silent in Your presence. Let us listen for Your voice and come to understand the power of Your word. May we be thankful for such moments and let them change our business into productive stillness, quiet minds and healthier bodies. We continue to pray for Senator DePasco as he prepares for yet another round of chemo and for Kim Green; touch their bodies with Your healing power and bring them to health in mind, body and spirit. And bless our relationships with those You have given us to love, so we may grow in covenant with You our God. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

(c) Convey to the municipality or other appropriate public body such real property as, in accordance with the development plan, is to be used for parks, schools, public buildings, facilities, or other public purposes;

(4) The authority may operate and maintain real property in the development area pending the disposition or development of the property in accordance with a development plan, without regard to the provisions of subdivisions (1) and (2) of this section, for such uses and purposes as may be deemed desirable even though not in conformity with the development plan.

99.1027. 1. A development plan shall set forth in writing a general description of the program to be undertaken to accomplish the development projects and related objectives and shall include, but need not be limited to:

(1) The estimated development project costs;

(2) The anticipated sources of funds to pay such development project costs;

(3) Evidence of the commitments to finance such development project costs;

(4) The anticipated type and term of the sources of funds to pay such development project costs;

(5) The anticipated type and terms of the obligations to be issued;

(6) The most recent equalized assessed valuation of the property within the development project area;

(7) An estimate as to the equalized assessed valuation after the development project area is developed in accordance with a development plan; and

(8) The general land uses to apply in the development area.

2. The development plan may be adopted by a municipality in reliance on findings that:

(1) The development area has not been subject to growth and development through investment by private enterprise and would not reasonably be anticipated to be developed without the implementation of one or more development projects and the adoption of development financing;

(2) The development plan conforms to the comprehensive plan for the development of the municipality as a whole;

(3) The estimated dates, which shall not be more than twenty-five years from the adoption of the ordinance approving any development project, of the completion of such development project and retirement of obligations incurred to finance development project costs have been stated, provided that no ordinance approving a development project shall be adopted later than fifteen years from the adoption of the ordinance approving the development plan and provided that no property for a development project shall be acquired by eminent domain later than ten years from the adoption of the ordinance approving such development plan;

(4) In the event any business or residence is to be relocated as a direct result of the implementation of the development plan, a plan has been developed for relocation assistance for businesses and residences; and

(5) A cost-benefit analysis showing the economic impact of the development plan on the municipality and school districts that are at least partially within the boundaries of the development area. The analysis shall show the impact on the economy if the development projects are not built pursuant to the development plan under consideration. The cost-benefit analysis shall include a fiscal impact study on each municipality and school district which is at least partially within the boundaries of the development area, and sufficient information from the authority to evaluate whether each development project as proposed is financially feasible.

99.1030. In the event a county of this state desires to designate a development area located in whole or in part within the boundaries of another municipality, such county shall first obtain the permission of the governing body of such other municipality.

99.1033. 1. A municipality may:

(1) Approve by ordinance the exercise by the authority of the powers, functions, and duties of the authority pursuant to sections 99.1000 to 99.1060;

(2) After adopting an ordinance in accordance with subdivision (1) of this subsection and after receipt of recommendations from the authority in accordance with subsection 2 of this section, by ordinance, designate development areas and adopt the development plans, development projects, designate a development project area for each development project adopted, and adopt development financing for each such development project area. No development plan may be adopted until the development area is designated. No development project shall be adopted until the development plan is adopted and the development project area for each development project shall be designated at the time of adopting the development project; and

(3) Exercise the powers, duties, or functions of the authority under sections 99.1000 to 99.1060.

2. The authority shall hold public hearings and provide notice pursuant to sections 99.1042 and 99.1045. Within ten days following the completion of any such public hearing, the authority shall vote on, and shall make recommendation to the governing body of the municipality with regard to, any development plan, development projects, designation of a development area, or amendments thereto which were proposed at such public hearing.

99.1036. 1. Prior to the adoption of the ordinance designating a development area, adopting a development plan, or approving a development project, the authority shall fix a time and place for a public hearing and notify each taxing district located wholly or partially within the boundaries of the proposed development area or development project area affected. Such notice shall comply with the provisions of subsection 2 of this section. At the public hearing any interested person or affected taxing district may file with the authority written objections to, or comments on, and may be heard orally in respect to, any issues embodied in the notice. The authority shall hear and consider all protests, objections, comments, and other evidence presented at the hearing. The hearing may be continued to another date without further notice other than a motion to be entered upon the minutes fixing the time and place of the subsequent hearing. Prior to the conclusion of the hearing, changes may be made in the development plan, development project, development area, or development project area, provided that written notice of such changes is available at the public hearing. After the public hearing but prior to the adoption of an ordinance designating a development area, adopting a development plan, or approving a development project, changes may be made to any such proposed development plan, development project, development area, or development project area without a further hearing, if such changes do not enlarge the exterior boundaries of the development area, and do not substantially affect the general land uses established in a development plan or development project, provided that notice of such changes shall be given by mail to each affected taxing district and by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the development area or development project area, as applicable, not less than ten days prior to the adoption of the changes by ordinance. After the adoption of an ordinance designating the development area, adopting a development plan, approving a development project, or designating a development project area, no ordinance shall be adopted altering the exterior boundaries of the development area or a development project area, affecting the general land uses established pursuant to the development plan or the general nature of a development project without holding a public hearing in accordance with this section. One public hearing may be held for the simultaneous consideration of a development area, development plan, development project, or development project area.

2. Notice of the public hearing required by section 99.1036 shall be given by publication and mailing. Notice by publication shall be given by publication at least twice, the first publication to be not more than thirty days and the second publication to be not more than ten days prior to the hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation in the proposed development area or development project area, as applicable. Notice by mailing shall be given by depositing such notice in the United States mail by certified mail addressed to the person or persons in whose name the general taxes for the last preceding year were paid on each lot, block, tract, or parcel of land lying within the proposed development area or development project area, as applicable, which is to be subjected to the payment or payments in lieu of taxes and economic activity taxes pursuant to section 99.1042. Such notice shall be mailed not less than ten days prior to the date set for the public hearing. In the event taxes for the last preceding year were not paid, the notice shall also be sent to the persons last listed on the tax rolls within the preceding three years as the owners of such property.

3. The notices issued pursuant to this section shall include the following:

- (1) The time and place of the public hearing;
- (2) The general boundaries of the proposed development area or development project area, as applicable, by street location, where possible;
- (3) A statement that all interested persons shall be given an opportunity to be heard at the public hearing;
- (4) A description of the development plan and the proposed development projects and a location and time where the entire development plan or development projects proposed may be reviewed by any interested party;
- (5) An estimate of other net new revenues; and
- (6) Such other matters as the authority may deem appropriate.

4. Not less than forty-five days prior to the date set for the public hearing, the authority shall give notice by mail as provided in subsection 2 of this section to all taxing districts with jurisdiction over taxable property in the development area or development project area, as applicable, and in addition to the other requirements pursuant to subsection 3 of this section, the notice shall include an invitation to each taxing district to submit comments to the authority concerning the subject matter of the hearing prior to the date of the hearing.

5. A copy of any and all hearing notices required by section 99.1036 shall be submitted by the authority to the director of the department of economic development and the time such notices are mailed or published, as applicable.

99.1039. 1. For the purpose of financing development project costs, obligations may be issued by the municipality, or, at the request of the municipality, by the authority or any other political subdivision authorized to issue bonds, but in no event by the state, to pay or reimburse development project costs. Such obligations, when so issued, shall be retired in the manner provided in the ordinance or resolution authorizing the issuance of such obligations.

2. Obligations issued pursuant to sections 99.1000 to 99.1060 may be issued in one or more series bearing interest at such rate or rates as the issuing entity shall determine by ordinance or resolution. Such obligations shall bear such date or dates, be in such denomination, carry such registration privileges, be executed in such manner, be payable in such medium of payment at such place or places, contain such covenants, terms, and conditions, and be subject to redemption as such ordinance or resolution shall provide. Obligations issued pursuant to sections 99.1000 to 99.1060 may be sold at public or private sale at such price as shall be determined by the issuing entity and shall state that obligations issued pursuant to sections 99.1000 to 99.1060 are special obligations payable solely from the funds specifically pledged. No referendum approval of the electors shall be required as a condition to the issuance of obligations pursuant to sections 99.1000 to 99.1060.

3. In the event the obligations contain a recital that they are issued pursuant to sections 99.1000 to 99.1060, such recital shall be conclusive evidence of their validity and of the regularity of their issuance.

4. Neither the municipality, the authority, or any other entity issuing such obligations, or the members, commissioners, directors, or the officers of any such entities nor any person executing any obligation shall be personally liable for such obligation by reason of the issuance thereof. The obligations issued pursuant to sections 99.1000 to 99.1060 shall not be a general obligation of the state, the municipality, or any political subdivision thereof, nor in any event shall such obligation be payable out of any funds or properties other than those specifically pledged as security for such obligations. The obligations shall not constitute indebtedness within the meaning of any constitutional, statutory, or charter debt limitation or restriction.

5. Obligations issued pursuant to sections 99.1000 to 99.1060 may be issued to refund, in whole or in part, obligations theretofore issued by such entity under the authority of sections 99.1000 to 99.1060, whether at or prior to maturity; provided, however, that the last maturity of the refunding obligations shall not be expressed to mature later than the last maturity date of the obligations to be refunded.

6. In the event a municipality or authority issues obligations under home rule powers or other legislative authority, the proceeds of which are pledged to pay for development project costs, the municipality may retire such obligations from funds in the special allocation fund in amounts and in such manner as if such obligations had been issued pursuant to the provisions of sections 99.1000 to 99.1060.

99.1042. 1. A municipality, after designating a development area, adopting a development plan, and adopting any development project in conformance with the procedures of sections 99.1000 to 99.1060, may adopt development financing for the development project area selected for any such development project by passing an ordinance. Upon the adoption of the first of any such ordinances, the municipality shall establish, or shall direct the authority to establish, a special allocation fund for the development area.

2. Immediately upon the adoption of a resolution or ordinance adopting development financing for a development project area pursuant to subsection 1 of this section, the county assessor shall determine the total equalized assessed value of all taxable real property within such development project area by adding together the most recently ascertained equalized assessed value of each taxable lot, block, tract, or parcel of real property within such development project area as of the date of the adoption of such resolution or ordinance and shall provide to the clerk of the municipality written certification of such amount as the total initial equalized assessed value of the taxable real property within such development project area.

3. In each of the twenty-five calendar years following the adoption of an ordinance adopting development financing for a development project area pursuant to subsection 1 of this section unless and until development financing for such development project area is terminated by ordinance of the municipality, the ad valorem taxes, and payments in lieu of taxes, if any, arising from the levies upon taxable real property in such development project area by taxing districts at the tax rates determined in the manner provided in section 99.1054 shall be divided as follows:

(1) That portion of taxes, penalties, and interest levied upon each taxable lot, block, tract, or parcel of real property in such development project area which is attributable to the initial equalized assessed value of each such taxable lot, block, tract, or parcel of real property in such development project area as certified by the county assessor in accordance with subsection 2 of this section shall be allocated to and, when collected, shall be paid by the collecting authority to the respective affected taxing districts in the manner required by law in the absence of the adoption of development financing;

(2) Payments in lieu of taxes attributable to the increase in the current equalized assessed valuation of each taxable lot, block, tract, or parcel of real property in the development project area and any applicable penalty and interest over and above the initial equalized assessed value of each such taxable lot, block, tract, or parcel of real property in such development project area as certified by the county assessor in accordance with subsection 2 of this section shall be allocated to and, when collected, shall be paid to the collecting officer of the municipality who shall deposit such payment in lieu of taxes into a separate segregated account for payments in lieu of taxes within the special fund. Payments in lieu of taxes which are due and owing shall constitute a lien against the real property from which such payments in lieu of taxes are derived and shall be collected in the same manner as real property taxes, including the assessment of penalties and interest where applicable. The lien of payments in lieu of taxes may be foreclosed in the same manner as the lien of real property taxes. No part of the current equalized assessed valuation of each lot, block, tract, or parcel of property in any such development project area attributable to any increase above the initial equalized assessed value of each such taxable lot, block, tract, or parcel of real property in such development project area as certified by the county assessor in accordance with subsection 2 of this section shall be used in calculating the general state school aid formula provided for in section 163.031, RSMo, until development financing for such development project area expires or is terminated in accordance with sections 99.1000 to 99.1060;

(3) For purposes of this section, "levies upon taxable real property in such development area by taxing districts" shall not include the blind pension fund tax levied under the authority of section 38(b), article III, of the Missouri Constitution, the merchants' and manufacturers' inventory replacement tax levied under the authority of subsection 2 of section 6 of article X of the Missouri Constitution, the desegregation sales tax, or the conservation taxes.

4. In each of the twenty-five calendar years following the adoption of an ordinance or resolution adopting development financing for a development project area pursuant to subsection 1 of this section unless and until development financing for such development project area is terminated in accordance with sections 99.1000 to 99.1060, fifty percent of the economic activity taxes from such development project area shall be allocated to, and paid by the collecting officer of any such economic activity tax to, the treasurer or other designated financial officer of the municipality, who shall deposit such funds in a separate segregated account for economic activity taxes within the special allocation fund.

99.1045. 1. A municipality may submit an application to the Missouri agricultural and small business development authority created pursuant to section 348.020, RSMo, for approval of the use of other net new revenues to fund one or more development projects through state supplemental rural development financing. An application submitted to the Missouri agricultural and small business development authority shall contain the following, in addition to the items set forth in section 99.1027:

(1) An estimate that one hundred percent of the payments in lieu of taxes and economic activity taxes deposited to the special allocation fund must and will be used to pay development project costs or obligations issued to finance development project costs to achieve the objectives of the development plan. Contributions to the development project from any private not-for-profit organization or local contributions from tax abatement or other sources may be substituted on a dollar for dollar basis for the local match of one hundred percent of payments in lieu of taxes and economic activity taxes from the fund;

- (2) Identification of the existing businesses located within the development project area and the development area;
- (3) The aggregate baseline year amount of state sales tax revenues and the aggregate baseline year amount of state income tax withheld on behalf of existing employees, reported by existing businesses within the development project area. Provisions of section 32.057 notwithstanding, the department of revenue will provide this information to municipalities within forty-five business days of receiving a request from a municipality for such information;
- (4) An estimate of the state sales tax increment and state income tax increment within the development project area after redevelopment;
- (5) An affidavit that is signed by the developer or developers attesting that the provision of subdivision (2) of subsection 3 of section 99.1027 has been met and specifying that the development area would not be reasonably anticipated to be developed without the appropriation of the other net new revenues;
- (6) The amounts and types of other net new revenues sought by the applicant as state supplemental rural development financing;
- (7) The methodologies and underlying assumptions used in determining the estimate of the state sales tax increment and the state income tax increment;
- (8) Any other information reasonably requested by the Missouri agricultural and small business development authority.

2. The Missouri agricultural and small business development authority shall make all reasonable efforts to process applications within sixty days of receipt of the application.

3. The Missouri agricultural and small business development authority shall make a determination regarding state supplemental rural development financing and shall forward such determination to the director of the department of economic development. In no event shall the amount of state supplemental rural development financing approved for a project, in addition to any other economic development funding or incentives, exceed the projected state benefit of the development project, as determined by the department of economic development. Upon approval of state supplemental rural development financing, a certificate of approval shall be issued by the department of economic development containing the terms and limitations of the financing.

4. At no time shall the annual amount of other net new revenues approved for state supplemental rural development financing exceed one hundred million dollars.

5. Development projects receiving other net new revenues shall be limited to receiving such revenues for fifteen years, unless specific approval for a longer term is given by the director of the department of economic development, as set forth in the certificate of approval; except that, in no case shall the duration exceed twenty-five years. The approved term notwithstanding, state supplemental rural development financing shall terminate when development financing for a development project is terminated by a municipality;

6. The municipality shall deposit other net new revenues in a separate segregated account for other net new revenues within the special allocation fund.

7. The department of economic development may charge a reasonable fee, to be submitted with an application for state supplemental rural development financing, in an amount reasonably estimated to recover the costs for personnel and other expenses incurred by the department of revenue, the department of economic development, and the Missouri agricultural and small business development authority in processing the application. Such fees shall be deposited into the state supplemental rural development fund created pursuant to section 99.1048.

8. Development project costs may include, at the prerogative of the state, the portion of salaries and expenses of the department of economic development and the department of revenue reasonably allocable to each development project approved for state supplemental rural development financing for the ongoing administrative functions associated with such development project. Such amounts shall be deposited into the state supplemental rural development fund created pursuant to section 99.1048.

9. A development project approved for state supplemental rural development financing may not thereafter elect to receive tax increment financing pursuant to the real property tax increment allocation redevelopment act, sections 99.800 to 99.865, and continue to receive state supplemental rural development financing pursuant to sections 99.1000 to 99.1060.

10. The director of the department of economic development shall issue regulations and publish forms to implement the provisions of this section and section 99.1048.

99.1048. 1. There is hereby established within the state treasury a special fund to be known as the "State Supplemental Rural Development Fund", to be administered by the department of economic development. The fund shall consist of money:

- (1) Appropriated from the general revenue fund;
- (2) Received from fees charged pursuant to subsection 7 of section 99.1045;
- (3) Received from costs charged pursuant to subsection 8 of section 99.1045; and
- (4) From any gifts, contributions, grants, or bequests received from federal, private, or other sources.

2. The general assembly may annually appropriate, into the state supplemental rural development fund an amount not to exceed an amount equal to the lesser of:

- (1) Other net new revenues generated by the development projects during the prior fiscal year plus twelve million dollars; or
- (2) One hundred fifty million dollars.

3. The department of economic development shall annually disburse state supplemental rural development financing from the state supplemental rural development fund in amounts determined pursuant to the certificates of approval for projects, providing all of the conditions of sections 99.1000 to 99.1060 are met. If the revenues appropriated into the state supplemental rural development fund are not sufficient to equal the amounts determined to be disbursed pursuant to such certificates of approval, the department of economic development shall disburse the revenues on a pro rata basis to all such projects and other costs approved pursuant to section 5 of this section.

4. Money in the state supplemental rural development fund may be spent for the reasonable and necessary costs associated with the administration of the program authorized under sections 99.1000 to 99.1060.

5. No municipality shall obligate or commit the expenditure of other net new revenues prior to receiving a certificate of approval for the development project generating such other net new revenues.

99.1051. 1. When all development project costs and all obligations issued to finance development project costs have been paid in full, the municipality shall adopt an ordinance terminating development financing for all development project areas. Immediately upon the adoption of such ordinance, all payments in lieu of taxes, all economic activity taxes, and other net new revenues then remaining in the special allocation fund shall be deemed to be surplus funds; and thereafter, the rates of the taxing districts shall be extended and taxes levied, collected, and distributed in the manner applicable in the absence of the adoption of development financing. Surplus payments in lieu of taxes shall be paid to the county collector who shall immediately thereafter pay such funds to the taxing districts in the development area selected in the same manner and proportion as the most recent distribution by the collector to the affected taxing districts of real property taxes from real property in the development area. Surplus economic activity taxes shall be paid to the taxing districts in the development area in proportion to the then current levy rates of such taxing districts that are attributable to economic activity taxes. Surplus other net new revenues shall be paid to the state. Any other funds remaining in the special allocation fund following the adoption of an ordinance terminating development financing in accordance with this section shall be deposited to the general fund of the municipality.

2. Upon the payment of all development project costs, retirement of obligations, and the distribution of any surplus funds pursuant to this section, the municipality shall adopt an ordinance dissolving the special allocation fund and terminating the designation of the development area as a development area.

3. Nothing in sections 99.1000 to 99.1060 shall be construed as relieving property in such areas from paying a uniform rate of taxes, as required by article X, section 3 of the Missouri Constitution.

99.1054. In each of the twenty-five calendar years following the adoption of an ordinance adopting development financing for a development project area, unless and until development financing for such development project area is terminated by ordinance of the municipality, then, in respect to every taxing district containing such development project area, the county clerk, or any other official required by law to ascertain the amount of the equalized assessed value of all taxable property within such development project area for the purpose of computing any debt service levies to be extended upon taxable property within such development project area, shall in every year that development financing is in effect ascertain the amount of value of taxable property in such development project area by including in such amount the certified total initial equalized assessed value of all taxable real property in such development project area in lieu of the equalized assessed value of all taxable real property in such development project area. For the purpose of measuring the size of payments in lieu of taxes under sections 99.1000 to 99.1060, all tax levies shall then be extended to the current equalized assessed value of all property in the development project area in the same manner as the tax rate percentage is extended to all other taxable property in the taxing district.

99.1057. Beginning in 2008, and every five years thereafter, a joint committee of the general assembly, comprised of five members appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives and five members appointed by the president pro tempore of the senate, shall review sections 99.1000 to 99.1060. A report based on such review, with any recommended legislative changes, shall be submitted to the speaker of the house of representatives and the president pro tempore of the senate no later than February first following the year in which the review is conducted.

99.1060. 1. By the last day of February each year, the authority shall report to the director of the department of economic development the name, address, phone number, and primary line of business of any business which relocates to the development area.

2. Each year the governing body of the municipality, or its designee, shall prepare a report concerning the status of the development plan, the development area, and the included development projects, and shall submit a copy of such report to the director of the department of economic development. The report shall include the following:

- (1) The amount and source of revenue in the special allocation fund;
- (2) The amount and purpose of expenditures from the special allocation fund;
- (3) The amount of any pledge of revenues, including principal and interest on any outstanding bonded indebtedness;
- (4) The original assessed value of the development area;
- (5) The assessed valuation added to the development area;

- (6) Payments made in lieu of taxes received and expended;
- (7) The economic activity taxes generated within the development area in the baseline year;
- (8) The economic activity taxes generated within the development area after the baseline year;
- (9) Reports on contracts made incident to the implementation and furtherance of a development area, the development plan, and the included development projects;
- (10) A copy of the development plan;
- (11) The cost of any property acquired, disposed of, rehabilitated, reconstructed, repaired, or remodeled;
- (12) The number of parcels acquired by or through initiation of eminent domain proceedings;
- (13) For municipalities with more than four hundred thousand inhabitants, the number of development projects developed in connection with community development corporations and the amount of funds generated pursuant to section 99.1042 which are expended in connection with such project; and
- (14) Any additional information the department of economic development deems necessary.

3. Data contained in the report mandated pursuant to the provisions of subsection 1 of this section and any information regarding amounts disbursed to municipalities pursuant to the provisions of sections 99.1042 and 99.1045 shall be deemed a public record, as defined in section 610.010, RSMo.

4. The director of the department of economic development shall submit a report to the governor, the speaker of the house of representatives, and the president pro tempore of the senate no later than April thirtieth of each year. The report shall contain a summary of all information received by the director of economic development pursuant to subsection 2 of this section.

5. An annual statement showing the payments made in lieu of taxes received and expended in that year, the status of the development area, the development plan, and the development projects in the development plan, the amount of outstanding obligations, and any additional information that the municipality deems necessary shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the municipality.

6. Five years after the establishment of the development area and the development plan and every five years thereafter the governing body of the authority shall hold a public hearing regarding the development area and the development plan and the development projects adopted pursuant to sections 99.1000 to 99.1060. The purpose of the hearing shall be to determine if the development area, development plan, and the included development projects are making satisfactory progress under the proposed time schedule contained within the approved development plan for completion of such development projects. Notice of such public hearing shall be given in a newspaper of general circulation in the area served by the authority once each week for four weeks immediately prior to the hearing."; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY--WEDNESDAY, MARCH 12, 2003

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Maxwell in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

"Faith lives only as long as it struggles." (Martin Luther)

Heavenly Father, we are often so busy and restless so much of the time that we seem never to get our faith to be as good as we desire it. So we pray that with Your help we may find time each day to struggle and wrestle with our doubts, explore our faith and willingly cry unto You to help us with our unbelief in order that our faith may grow. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

"508.010. Suits instituted by summons shall, except as otherwise provided by law, be brought:

- (1) When the defendant is a resident of the state, either in the county within which the defendant resides, or in the county within which the plaintiff resides, and the defendant may be found;
- (2) When there are several defendants, and they reside in different counties, the suit may be brought in any such county;
- (3) When there are several defendants, some residents and others nonresidents of the state, suit may be brought in any county in this state in which any defendant resides;
- (4) When all the defendants are nonresidents of the state, suit may be brought in any county in this state;
- (5) Any action, local or transitory, in which any county shall be plaintiff, may be commenced and prosecuted to final judgment in the county in which the defendant or defendants reside, or in the county suing and where the defendants, or one of them, may be found;
- (6) In all tort actions the suit may be brought in the county where the cause of action accrued regardless of the residence of the parties, and process therein shall be issued by the court of such county and may be served in any county within the state; provided, however, that in any action for defamation or for invasion of privacy the cause of action shall be deemed to have accrued in the county in which the defamation or invasion was first published;
- (7) In all tort actions based upon claims of improper health care, except as provided in section 508.070, the suit may only be brought in either:
 - (a) The county in which the cause of action occurred;
 - (b) The county in which the defendant resides; or
 - (c) The county in which the corporate defendant's registered agent may be found.

510.263. 1. All actions tried before a jury involving punitive damages, including tort actions based upon improper health care, shall be conducted in a bifurcated trial before the same jury if requested by any party.

2. In the first stage of a bifurcated trial, in which the issue of punitive damages is submissible, the jury shall determine liability for compensatory damages, the amount of compensatory damages, including nominal damages, and the liability of a defendant for punitive damages. Evidence of defendant's financial condition shall not be admissible in the first stage of such trial unless admissible for a proper purpose other than the amount of punitive damages.

3. If during the first stage of a bifurcated trial the jury determines that a defendant is liable for punitive damages, that jury shall determine, in a second stage of trial, the amount of punitive damages to be awarded against such defendant. Evidence of such defendant's net worth shall be admissible during the second stage of such trial.

4. Within the time for filing a motion for new trial, a defendant may file a post-trial motion requesting the amount awarded by the jury as punitive damages be credited by the court with amounts previously paid by the defendant for punitive damages arising out of the same conduct on which the imposition of punitive damages is based. At any hearing, the burden on all issues relating to such a credit shall be on the defendant and either party may introduce relevant evidence on such motion. Such a motion shall be determined by the trial court within the time and according to procedures applicable to motions for new trial. If the trial court sustains such a motion the trial court shall credit the jury award of punitive damages by the amount found by the trial court to have been previously paid by the defendant arising out of the same conduct and enter judgment accordingly. If the defendant fails to establish entitlement to a credit under the provisions of this section, or the trial court finds from the evidence that the defendant's conduct out of which the prior punitive damages award arose was not the same conduct on which the imposition of punitive damages is based in the pending action, or the trial court finds the defendant unreasonably continued the conduct after acquiring actual knowledge of the dangerous nature of such conduct, the trial court shall disallow such credit, or, if the trial court finds that the laws regarding punitive damages in the state in which the prior award of punitive damages was entered substantially and materially deviate from the law of the state of Missouri and that the nature of such deviation provides good cause for disallowance of the credit based on the public policy of Missouri, then the trial court may disallow all or any part of the credit provided by this section.

5. The credit allowable under this section shall not apply to causes of action for libel, slander, assault, battery, false imprisonment, criminal conversation, malicious prosecution or fraud.

6. The doctrines of remittitur and additur, based on the trial judge's assessment of the totality of the surrounding circumstances, shall apply to punitive damage awards.

7. As used in this section, the term "punitive damage award" means an award for punitive or exemplary damages or an award for aggravating circumstances.

8. Discovery as to a defendant's assets shall be allowed only after a finding by the trial court that it is more likely than not that the plaintiff will be able to present a submissible case to the trier of fact on the plaintiff's claim of punitive damages.

537.072. In tort actions based upon improper health care, except for those cases in which the court makes a written finding that mediation would have no chance of success, the court shall establish a discovery period after which the action or proceeding shall be referred to mediation, which shall be conducted by a trained mediator selected from a list approved by the circuit court.

538.210. 1. In any action against a health care provider for damages for personal injury or death arising out of the rendering of or the failure to render health care services, no plaintiff shall recover more than three hundred fifty thousand dollars [per occurrence] for noneconomic damages from any one defendant as defendant is defined in subsection 2 of this section.

2. "Defendant" for purposes of sections 538.205 to 538.230 shall be defined as:

(1) A hospital as defined in chapter 197, RSMo, and its employees and physician employees who are insured under the hospital's professional liability insurance policy or the hospital's self-insurance maintained for professional liability purposes;

(2) A physician, including his nonphysician employees who are insured under the physician's professional liability insurance or under the physician's self-insurance maintained for professional liability purposes;

(3) Any other health care provider, including but not limited to a facility licensed under chapter 198, RSMo, having the legal capacity to sue and be sued and who is not included in subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection, including employees of any health care providers who are insured under the health care provider's professional liability insurance policy or self-insurance maintained for professional liability purposes;

(4) All individuals or entities whose liability is based solely upon an act or omission of an agent, servant, or employee shall, for purposes of subsection 1 of this section, be considered the same defendant as the agent, servant, or employee.

3. In any action against a health care provider for damages for personal injury or death arising out of the rendering of or the failure to render health care services, where the trier of fact is a jury, such jury shall not be instructed by the court with respect to the limitation on an award of noneconomic damages, nor shall counsel for any party or any person providing testimony during such proceeding in any way inform the jury or potential jurors of such limitation.

4. The limitation on awards for noneconomic damages provided for in this section shall be increased or decreased on an annual basis effective January first of each year in accordance with the Implicit Price Deflator for Personal Consumption Expenditures as published by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce. The current value of the limitation shall be calculated by the director of the department of insurance, who shall furnish that value to the secretary of state, who shall publish such value in the Missouri Register as soon after each January first as practicable, but it shall otherwise be exempt from the provisions of section 536.021, RSMo.

[5. Any provision of law or court rule to the contrary notwithstanding, an award of punitive damages against a health care provider governed by the provisions of sections 538.205 to 538.230 shall be made only upon a showing by a plaintiff that the health care provider demonstrated willful, wanton or malicious misconduct with respect to his actions which are found to have injured or caused or contributed to cause the damages claimed in the petition.]

5. Beginning on August 28, 2003, the limitation on awards for noneconomic damages, as otherwise provided for in subsections 1 to 4 of this section, shall be immediately reduced by twenty percent.

6. On August 28, 2003, every insurer authorized to sell medical malpractice liability insurance in this state shall immediately reduce its premiums, rates, and charges on policies in this state to levels which are at least twenty percent less than the premiums, rates, and charges for the same coverage which were in effect on August 28, 2002. For those who apply for medical malpractice liability insurance for the first time in this state on or after August 28, 2003, the premiums, rates, and charges that apply shall be at least twenty percent less than the premiums, rates, and charges which were in effect for such insurer on August 28, 2002, for similarly situated risks. Any separate affiliate of an insurer, established on or after August 28, 2003, shall be subject to the provisions in this section and shall reduce its charges to levels which are at least twenty percent less than the insurer's charges in effect on that date.

7. After August 28, 2003, premiums, rates, and charges for medical malpractice liability insurance issued or renewed in this state shall be increased or decreased on an annual basis effective January first of each year in accordance with the adjustment factors applicable to the limitation on awards for noneconomic damages as provided for in subsection 4 of this section.

8. An insurer authorized to sell medical malpractice liability insurance in this state may file an application with the director of the department of insurance for an exemption from the premium, rate, and charge adjustment limitations set forth in subsection 7 of this section, with respect to the medical malpractice liability insurance policy of an insured who the insurer considers to be an extremely high-risk insured. Upon the filing of such application and upon a finding based upon sufficient proof that the identified insured is an extremely high-risk insured and that the limitations imposed on the insurer pursuant to subsection 7 of this section will not allow the insurer to reasonably protect against the risk posed by providing coverage to the insured, the director may approve premiums, rates, or charges for the policy in excess of the premiums, rates, and charges permitted by subsection 7 of this section. In approving an exemption pursuant to this subsection the director shall approve only those premiums, rates, and charges that are based on the experience of the insured.

9. The director of the department of insurance is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2003, shall be invalid and void.

10. For purposes of this section, all individuals and entities asserting a claim for a wrongful death pursuant to section 537.080, RSMo, based upon claims of improper health care shall be considered to be one plaintiff.

538.225. 1. In any action against a health care provider for damages for personal injury or death on account of the rendering of or failure to render health care services, the plaintiff or [his] the plaintiff's attorney shall file an affidavit with the court stating that he or she has obtained the written opinion of a legally qualified health care provider which states that the defendant health care provider failed to use such care as a reasonably prudent and careful health care provider would have under similar circumstances and that such failure to use such reasonable care directly caused or directly contributed to cause the damages claimed in the petition.

2. The affidavit shall state the qualifications of such health care providers to offer such opinion.

3. A separate affidavit shall be filed for each defendant named in the petition.

4. Such affidavit shall be filed no later than ninety days after the filing of the petition unless the court, for good cause shown, orders that such time be extended for a period of time not to exceed an additional ninety days.

5. If the plaintiff or his attorney fails to file such affidavit the court [may] shall, upon motion of any party, dismiss the action against such moving party without prejudice.

6. As used in this section, the term "legally qualified health care provider" means a health care provider licensed in this state or any other state who has experience in a like area of expertise as the defendant.

538.227. 1. The portion of statements, writings, or benevolent gestures expressing sympathy or a general sense of benevolence relating to the pain, suffering, or death of a person and made to that person or to the family of that person shall be inadmissible as evidence of an admission of liability in a civil action. A statement of fault, however, which is part of, or in addition to, any of the provisions of this subsection shall not be inadmissible pursuant to this section.

2. For the purposes of this section:

(1) "Benevolent gestures", actions which convey a sense of compassion or commiseration emanating from humane impulses;

(2) "Family", the spouse, parent, grandparent, stepmother, stepfather, child, grandchild, brother, sister, half brother, half sister, lifetime partner or significant other, adopted children of a parent, or spouse's parents of an injured party.

Section 1. 1. Any person may file a miscellaneous case for purpose of securing copies of their health care records or the health care records of any other person for whom he or she is the guardian or attorney-in-fact or is a potential claimant for a wrongful death.

2. A miscellaneous case shall be filed in the circuit in which any of the health care records sought to be obtained are located.

3. (1) The petition shall contain the following:

(a) The name of the individual who received the health care services or medical treatment;

(b) A brief summary of the health care services or medical treatment received;

(c) A brief summary of the outcome of the health care services or medical treatment; and

(d) The names of the health care providers from whom health care records are being sought.

(2) The petition shall not contain:

(a) Allegations of negligence; or

(b) Demands, other than a general demand for access to health care records.

4. Within five days of filing the miscellaneous case, the petitioner shall mail a copy of the petition by regular and certified mail to each health care provider listed in the petition. The petitioner shall certify to the court that the petition has been mailed as required.

5. After filing a miscellaneous case, the petitioner may request the health care records described in subsection 1 of this section by subpoena and, if necessary, subpoena the health care records custodian for a deposition for the sole purpose of securing copies of the health care records and verifying their authenticity. Refusal to provide the requested records may be the basis for the court to impose sanctions or orders of contempt.

6. Filing of a miscellaneous case petition shall toll the applicable statute of limitations for one hundred twenty days on any claim for injuries or death caused by professional negligence of a health care provider, but in no event shall the applicable statute of limitations be tolled pursuant to this section for more than one hundred twenty days.

7. The naming or listing of a health care provider as a person from whom records are requested shall not be considered for any reporting purposes as a claim made against the health care provider.

8. A health care provider, or any person or entity acting on behalf of a health care provider shall not charge more than is allowable pursuant to section 197.227, RSMo, for providing copies of health care records."; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Jacob moved that the above amendment be adopted.

Senator Jacob offered SSA 1 for SA 1:

"508.010. Suits instituted by summons shall, except as otherwise provided by law, be brought:

- (1) When the defendant is a resident of the state, either in the county within which the defendant resides, or in the county within which the plaintiff resides, and the defendant may be found;
- (2) When there are several defendants, and they reside in different counties, the suit may be brought in any such county;
- (3) When there are several defendants, some residents and others nonresidents of the state, suit may be brought in any county in this state in which any defendant resides;
- (4) When all the defendants are nonresidents of the state, suit may be brought in any county in this state;
- (5) Any action, local or transitory, in which any county shall be plaintiff, may be commenced and prosecuted to final judgment in the county in which the defendant or defendants reside, or in the county suing and where the defendants, or one of them, may be found;

(6) In all tort actions the suit may be brought in the county where the cause of action accrued regardless of the residence of the parties, and process therein shall be issued by the court of such county and may be served in any county within the state; provided, however, that in any action for defamation or for invasion of privacy the cause of action shall be deemed to have accrued in the county in which the defamation or invasion was first published;

(7) In all tort actions based upon claims of improper health care, except as provided in section 508.070, the suit may only be brought in either:

(a) The county in which the cause of action occurred;

(b) The county in which the defendant resides; or

(c) The county in which the corporate defendant's registered agent may be found.

510.263. 1. All actions tried before a jury involving punitive damages, including tort actions based upon improper health care, shall be conducted in a bifurcated trial before the same jury if requested by any party.

2. In the first stage of a bifurcated trial, in which the issue of punitive damages is submissible, the jury shall determine liability for compensatory damages, the amount of compensatory damages, including nominal damages, and the liability of a defendant for punitive damages. Evidence of defendant's financial condition shall not be admissible in the first stage of such trial unless admissible for a proper purpose other than the amount of punitive damages.

3. If during the first stage of a bifurcated trial the jury determines that a defendant is liable for punitive damages, that jury shall determine, in a second stage of trial, the amount of punitive damages to be awarded against such defendant. Evidence of such defendant's net worth shall be admissible during the second stage of such trial.

4. Within the time for filing a motion for new trial, a defendant may file a post-trial motion requesting the amount awarded by the jury as punitive damages be credited by the court with amounts previously paid by the defendant for punitive damages arising out of the same conduct on which the imposition of punitive damages is based. At any hearing, the burden on all issues relating to such a credit shall be on the defendant and either party may introduce relevant evidence on such motion. Such a motion shall be determined by the trial court within the time and according to procedures applicable to motions for new trial. If the trial court sustains such a motion the trial court shall credit the jury award of punitive damages by the amount found by the trial court to have been previously paid by the defendant arising out of the same conduct and enter judgment accordingly. If the defendant fails to establish entitlement to a credit under the provisions of this section, or the trial court finds from the evidence that the defendant's conduct out of which the prior punitive damages award arose was not the same conduct on which the imposition of punitive damages is based in the pending action, or the trial court finds the defendant unreasonably continued the conduct after acquiring actual knowledge of the dangerous nature of such conduct, the trial court shall disallow such credit, or, if the trial court finds that the laws regarding punitive damages in the state in which the prior award of punitive damages was entered substantially and materially deviate from the law of the state of Missouri and that the nature of such deviation provides good cause for disallowance of the credit based on the public policy of Missouri, then the trial court may disallow all or any part of the credit provided by this section.

5. The credit allowable under this section shall not apply to causes of action for libel, slander, assault, battery, false imprisonment, criminal conversation, malicious prosecution or fraud.

6. The doctrines of remittitur and additur, based on the trial judge's assessment of the totality of the surrounding circumstances, shall apply to punitive damage awards.

7. As used in this section, the term "punitive damage award" means an award for punitive or exemplary damages or an award for aggravating circumstances.

8. Discovery as to a defendant's assets shall be allowed only after a finding by the trial court that it is more likely than not that the plaintiff will be able to present a submissible case to the trier of fact on the plaintiff's claim of punitive damages.

537.072. In tort actions based upon improper health care, except for those cases in which the court makes a written finding that mediation would have no chance of success, the court shall establish a discovery period after which the action or proceeding shall be referred to mediation, which shall be conducted by a trained mediator selected from a list approved by the circuit court.

538.210. 1. In any action against a health care provider for damages for personal injury or death arising out of the rendering of or the failure to render health care services, no plaintiff shall recover more than three hundred fifty thousand dollars [per occurrence] for noneconomic damages from any one defendant as defendant is defined in subsection 2 of this section.

2. "Defendant" for purposes of sections 538.205 to 538.230 shall be defined as:

(1) A hospital as defined in chapter 197, RSMo, and its employees and physician employees who are insured under the hospital's professional liability insurance policy or the hospital's self-insurance maintained for professional liability purposes;

(2) A physician, including his nonphysician employees who are insured under the physician's professional liability insurance or under the physician's self-insurance maintained for professional liability purposes;

(3) Any other health care provider, including but not limited to a facility licensed under chapter 198, RSMo, having the legal capacity to sue and be sued and who is not included in subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection, including employees of any health care providers who are insured under the health care provider's professional liability insurance policy or self-insurance maintained for professional liability purposes;

(4) All individuals or entities whose liability is based solely upon an act or omission of an agent, servant, or employee shall, for purposes of subsection 1 of this section, be considered the same defendant as the agent, servant, or employee.

3. In any action against a health care provider for damages for personal injury or death arising out of the rendering of or the failure to render health care services, where the trier of fact is a jury, such jury shall not be instructed by the court with respect to the limitation on an award of noneconomic damages, nor shall counsel for any party or any person providing testimony during such proceeding in any way inform the jury or potential jurors of such limitation.

4. The limitation on awards for noneconomic damages provided for in this section shall be increased or decreased on an annual basis effective January first of each year in accordance with the Implicit Price Deflator for Personal Consumption Expenditures as published by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce. The current value of the limitation shall be calculated by the director of the department of insurance, who shall furnish that value to the secretary of state, who shall publish such value in the Missouri Register as soon after each January first as practicable, but it shall otherwise be exempt from the provisions of section 536.021, RSMo.

[5. Any provision of law or court rule to the contrary notwithstanding, an award of punitive damages against a health care provider governed by the provisions of sections 538.205 to 538.230 shall be made only upon a showing by a plaintiff that the health care provider demonstrated willful, wanton or malicious misconduct with respect to his actions which are found to have injured or caused or contributed to cause the damages claimed in the petition.]

5. Beginning on August 28, 2003, the limitation on awards for noneconomic damages, as otherwise provided for in subsections 1 to 4 of this section, shall be immediately reduced by twenty-five percent.

6. On August 28, 2003, every insurer authorized to sell medical malpractice liability insurance in this state shall immediately reduce its premiums, rates, and charges on policies in this state to levels which are at least twenty-five percent less than the premiums, rates, and charges for the same coverage which were in effect on August 28, 2002. For those who apply for medical malpractice liability insurance for the first time in this state on or after

August 28, 2003, the premiums, rates, and charges that apply shall be at least twenty-five percent less than the premiums, rates, and charges which were in effect for such insurer on August 28, 2002, for similarly situated risks. Any separate affiliate of an insurer, established on or after August 28, 2003, shall be subject to the provisions in this section and shall reduce its charges to levels which are at least twenty-five percent less than the insurer's charges in effect on that date.

7. After August 28, 2003, premiums, rates, and charges for medical malpractice liability insurance issued or renewed in this state shall be increased or decreased on an annual basis effective January first of each year in accordance with the adjustment factors applicable to the limitation on awards for noneconomic damages as provided for in subsection 4 of this section.

8. An insurer authorized to sell medical malpractice liability insurance in this state may file an application with the director of the department of insurance for an exemption from the premium, rate, and charge adjustment limitations set forth in subsection 7 of this section, with respect to the medical malpractice liability insurance policy of an insured who the insurer considers to be an extremely high-risk insured. Upon the filing of such application and upon a finding based upon sufficient proof that the identified insured is an extremely high-risk insured and that the limitations imposed on the insurer pursuant to subsection 7 of this section will not allow the insurer to reasonably protect against the risk posed by providing coverage to the insured, the director may approve premiums, rates, or charges for the policy in excess of the premiums, rates, and charges permitted by subsection 7 of this section. In approving an exemption pursuant to this subsection the director shall approve only those premiums, rates, and charges that are based on the experience of the insured.

9. The director of the department of insurance is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2003, shall be invalid and void.

10. For purposes of this section, all individuals and entities asserting a claim for a wrongful death pursuant to section 537.080, RSMo, based upon claims of improper health care shall be considered to be one plaintiff.

538.225. 1. In any action against a health care provider for damages for personal injury or death on account of the rendering of or failure to render health care services, the plaintiff or [his] the plaintiff's attorney shall file an affidavit with the court stating that he or she has obtained the written opinion of a legally qualified health care provider which states that the defendant health care provider failed to use such care as a reasonably prudent and careful health care provider would have under similar circumstances and that such failure to use such reasonable care directly caused or directly contributed to cause the damages claimed in the petition.

2. The affidavit shall state the qualifications of such health care providers to offer such opinion.

3. A separate affidavit shall be filed for each defendant named in the petition.

4. Such affidavit shall be filed no later than ninety days after the filing of the petition unless the court, for good cause shown, orders that such time be extended for a period of time not to exceed an additional ninety days.

5. If the plaintiff or his attorney fails to file such affidavit the court [may] shall, upon motion of any party, dismiss the action against such moving party without prejudice.

6. As used in this section, the term "legally qualified health care provider" means a health care provider licensed in this state or any other state who has experience in a like area of expertise as the defendant.

538.227. 1. The portion of statements, writings, or benevolent gestures expressing sympathy or a general sense of benevolence relating to the pain, suffering, or death of a person and made to that person or to the family of that person shall be inadmissible as evidence of an admission of liability in a civil action. A statement of fault, however, which is part of, or in addition to, any of the provisions of this subsection shall not be inadmissible pursuant to this section.

2. For the purposes of this section:

- (1) "Benevolent gestures", actions which convey a sense of compassion or commiseration emanating from humane impulses;
- (2) "Family", the spouse, parent, grandparent, stepmother, stepfather, child, grandchild, brother, sister, half brother, half sister, lifetime partner or significant other, adopted children of a parent, or spouse's parents of an injured party.

Section 1. 1. Any person may file a miscellaneous case for purpose of securing copies of their health care records or the health care records of any other person for whom he or she is the guardian or attorney-in-fact or is a potential claimant for a wrongful death.

2. A miscellaneous case shall be filed in the circuit in which any of the health care records sought to be obtained are located.

3. (1) The petition shall contain the following:

- (a) The name of the individual who received the health care services or medical treatment;
- (b) A brief summary of the health care services or medical treatment received;
- (c) A brief summary of the outcome of the health care services or medical treatment; and
- (d) The names of the health care providers from whom health care records are being sought.

(2) The petition shall not contain:

- (a) Allegations of negligence; or
- (b) Demands, other than a general demand for access to health care records.

4. Within five days of filing the miscellaneous case, the petitioner shall mail a copy of the petition by regular and certified mail to each health care provider listed in the petition. The petitioner shall certify to the court that the petition has been mailed as required.

5. After filing a miscellaneous case, the petitioner may request the health care records described in subsection 1 of this section by subpoena and, if necessary, subpoena the health care records custodian for a deposition for the sole purpose of securing copies of the health care records and verifying their authenticity. Refusal to provide the requested records may be the basis for the court to impose sanctions or orders of contempt.

6. Filing of a miscellaneous case petition shall toll the applicable statute of limitations for one hundred twenty days on any claim for injuries or death caused by professional negligence of a health care provider, but in no event shall the applicable statute of limitations be tolled pursuant to this section for more than one hundred twenty days.

7. The naming or listing of a health care provider as a person from whom records are requested shall not be considered for any reporting purposes as a claim made against the health care provider.

8. A health care provider, or any person or entity acting on behalf of a health care provider shall not charge more than is allowable pursuant to section 197.227, RSMo, for providing copies of health care records."; and

(4) All individuals or entities whose liability is based solely upon an act or omission of an agent, servant, or employee shall, for purposes of subsection 1 of this section, be considered the same defendant as the agent, servant, or employee.

3. In any action against a health care provider for damages for personal injury or death arising out of the rendering of or the failure to render health care services, where the trier of fact is a jury, such jury shall not be instructed by the court with respect to the limitation on an award of noneconomic damages, nor shall counsel for any party or any person providing testimony during such proceeding in any way inform the jury or potential jurors of such limitation.

4. The limitation on awards for noneconomic damages provided for in this section shall be increased or decreased on an annual basis effective January first of each year in accordance with the Implicit Price Deflator for Personal Consumption Expenditures as published by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce. The current value of the limitation shall be calculated by the director of the department of insurance, who shall furnish that value to the secretary of state, who shall publish such value in the Missouri Register as soon after each January first as practicable, but it shall otherwise be exempt from the provisions of section 536.021, RSMo.

[5. Any provision of law or court rule to the contrary notwithstanding, an award of punitive damages against a health care provider governed by the provisions of sections 538.205 to 538.230 shall be made only upon a showing by a plaintiff that the health care provider demonstrated willful, wanton or malicious misconduct with respect to his actions which are found to have injured or caused or contributed to cause the damages claimed in the petition.]

5. Beginning on August 28, 2003, the limitation on awards for noneconomic damages, as otherwise provided for in subsections 1 to 4 of this section, shall be immediately reduced by twenty percent.

6. On August 28, 2003, every insurer authorized to sell medical malpractice liability insurance in this state shall immediately reduce its premiums, rates, and charges on policies in this state to levels which are at least twenty percent less than the premiums, rates, and charges for the same coverage which were in effect on August 28, 2002. For those who apply for medical malpractice liability insurance for the first time in this state on or after August 28, 2003, the premiums, rates, and charges that apply shall be at least twenty percent less than the premiums, rates, and charges which were in effect for such insurer on August 28, 2002, for similarly situated risks. Any separate affiliate of an insurer, established on or after August 28, 2003, shall be subject to the provisions in this section and shall reduce its charges to levels which are at least twenty percent less than the insurer's charges in effect on that date.

7. After August 28, 2003, premiums, rates, and charges for medical malpractice liability insurance issued or renewed in this state shall be increased or decreased on an annual basis effective January first of each year in accordance with the adjustment factors applicable to the limitation on awards for noneconomic damages as provided for in subsection 4 of this section.

8. An insurer authorized to sell medical malpractice liability insurance in this state may file an application with the director of the department of insurance for an exemption from the premium, rate, and charge adjustment limitations set forth in subsection 7 of this section, with respect to the medical malpractice liability insurance policy of an insured who the insurer considers to be an extremely high-risk insured. Upon the filing of such application and upon a finding based upon sufficient proof that the identified insured is an extremely high-risk insured and that the limitations imposed on the insurer pursuant to subsection 7 of this section will not allow the insurer to reasonably protect against the risk posed by providing coverage to the insured, the director may approve premiums, rates, or charges for the policy in excess of the premiums, rates, and charges permitted by subsection 7 of this section. In approving an exemption pursuant to this subsection the director shall approve only those premiums, rates, and charges that are based on the experience of the insured.

9. The director of the department of insurance is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2003, shall be invalid and void.

10. For purposes of this section, all individuals and entities asserting a claim for a wrongful death pursuant to section 537.080, RSMo, based upon claims of improper health care shall be considered to be one plaintiff."; and

In any action against a health care provider for damages for personal injury or death on account of the rendering of or failure to render health care services, the plaintiff or [his] the plaintiff's attorney shall file an affidavit with the court stating that he or she has obtained the written opinion of a legally qualified health care provider which states that the defendant health care provider failed to use such care as a reasonably prudent and careful health care provider would have under similar circumstances and that such failure to use such reasonable care directly caused or directly contributed to cause the damages claimed in the petition.

2. The affidavit shall state the qualifications of such health care providers to offer such opinion.

3. A separate affidavit shall be filed for each defendant named in the petition.

4. Such affidavit shall be filed no later than ninety days after the filing of the petition unless the court, for good cause shown, orders that such time be extended for a period of time not to exceed an additional ninety days.

5. If the plaintiff or his attorney fails to file such affidavit the court [may] shall, upon motion of any party, dismiss the action against such moving party without prejudice.

4. Within five days of filing the miscellaneous case, the petitioner shall mail a copy of the petition by regular and certified mail to each health care provider listed in the petition. The petitioner shall certify to the court that the petition has been mailed as required.

5. Refusal to provide the requested records may be the basis for the court to impose sanctions or orders of contempt.

6. And may we be even more prepared to hear Your Word and let it accomplish in us what You will. Amen.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senators Dolan and Kinder offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 14

WHEREAS, the people of the state of Missouri view with growing concern the proliferation and buildup of nuclear, chemical and biological weapons of mass destruction and missile delivery systems for these weapons in the hands of hostile, or potentially hostile, and unstable foreign regimes; and

WHEREAS, the tragedy of September 11, 2002 shows that America is vulnerable to attack by foreign enemies; and

WHEREAS, North Korea has clearly established its intention to proceed with the further development of its offensive ballistic missiles and nuclear armaments, either as instruments of blackmail and extortion or for operational deployment, thereby contravening all previous nonproliferation agreements and understandings, with the effect of threatening the security of South Korea, Japan and the United States; and

WHEREAS, the people of the state of Missouri wish to affirm their support of the Government of the United States to take all action necessary to protect the people of America and future generations, including from attacks by missiles capable of causing mass destruction and loss of American lives:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby support the President of the United States to continue to take all actions necessary, directing the considerable scientific and technological capability of the great Union, to protect all fifty states and their people, our allies and our armed forces abroad from the threat of missile attack; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the President of the United States and Congress be urged to consider that a nationwide, effective missile defense system will require the deployment of a robust, multi-layered architecture consisting of integrated land-based, sea-based and space-based capabilities to deter evolving future threats from missiles as weapons of mass destruction and to meet and destroy them when necessary; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the President of the United States and Congress be urged to plan and fund a missile defense system beyond 2005 that would consolidate technological advancement and expansion from the limited applications currently planned; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States, President of the United States Senate, Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and the members of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 51, Page 1, Section A, Line 6, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"160.545. 1. There is hereby established within the department of elementary and secondary education the "A+ Schools Program" to be administered by the commissioner of education. The program shall consist of grant awards made to public secondary schools that demonstrate a commitment to ensure that:

(1) All students be graduated from school;

(2) All students complete a selection of high school studies that is challenging and for which there are identified learning expectations; and

(3) All students proceed from high school graduation to a college or postsecondary vocational or technical school or high-wage job with work place skill development opportunities.

2. The state board of education shall promulgate rules and regulations for the approval of grants made under the program to schools that:

(1) Establish measurable districtwide performance standards for the goals of the program outlined in subsection 1 of this section; and

(2) Specify the knowledge, skills and competencies, in measurable terms, that students must demonstrate to successfully complete any individual course offered by the school, and any course of studies which will qualify a student for graduation from the school; and

(3) Do not offer a general track of courses that, upon completion, can lead to a high school diploma; and

(4) Require rigorous coursework with standards of competency in basic academic subjects for students pursuing vocational and technical education as prescribed by rule and regulation of the state board of education; and

(5) Have a partnership plan developed in cooperation and with the advice of local business persons, labor leaders, parents, and representatives of college and postsecondary vocational and technical school representatives, with the plan then approved by the local board of education. The plan shall specify a mechanism to receive information on an annual basis from those who developed the plan in addition to senior citizens, community leaders, and teachers to update the plan in order to best meet the goals of the program as provided in subsection 1 of this section. Further, the plan shall detail the procedures used in the school to identify students that may drop out of school and the intervention services to be used to meet the needs of such students. The plan shall outline counseling and mentoring services provided to students who will enter the work force upon graduation from high school, address apprenticeship and intern programs, and shall contain procedures for the recruitment of volunteers from the community of the school to serve in schools receiving program grants.

3. By rule and regulation, the state board of education may determine a local school district variable fund match requirement in order for a school or schools in the district to receive a grant under the program. However, no school in any district shall receive a grant under the program unless the district designates a salaried employee to serve as the program coordinator, with the district assuming a minimum of one-half the cost of the salary and other benefits provided to the coordinator. Further, no school in any district shall receive a grant under the program unless the district makes available facilities and services for adult literacy training as specified by rule of the state board of education.

4. For any school that meets the requirements for the approval of the grants authorized by this section and specified in subsection 2 of this section for three successive school years, by August first following the third such school year, the commissioner of education shall present a plan to the superintendent of the school district in which such school is located for the waiver of rules and regulations to promote flexibility in the operations of the school and to enhance and encourage efficiency in the delivery of instructional services in the school. The provisions of other law to the contrary notwithstanding, the plan presented to the superintendent shall provide a summary waiver, with no conditions, for the pupil testing requirements pursuant to section 160.257 in the school. Further, the provisions of other law to the contrary notwithstanding, the plan shall detail a means for the waiver of requirements otherwise imposed on the school related to the authority of the state board of education to classify school districts pursuant to subdivision (9) of section 161.092, RSMo, and such other rules and regulations as determined by the commissioner of education, except such waivers shall be confined to the school and not other schools in the school district unless such other schools meet the requirements of this subsection. However, any waiver provided to any school as outlined in this subsection shall be void on June thirtieth of any school year in which the school fails to meet the requirements for the approval of the grants authorized by this section as specified in subsection 2 of this section.

5. For any school year, grants authorized by subsections 1 to 3 of this section shall be funded with the amount appropriated for this program, less those funds necessary to reimburse eligible students pursuant to subsection 6 of this section.

6. The commissioner of education shall, by rule and regulation of the state board of education and with the advice of the coordinating board for higher education, establish a procedure for the reimbursement of the cost of tuition, books and fees to any public community college or vocational or technical school for any student:

(1) Who has attended a public high school in the state for at least three years immediately prior to graduation that meets the requirements of subsection 2 of this section, except that students who are active duty military dependents who, in the school year immediately preceding graduation, meet all other requirements of this subsection and are attending a school that meets the requirements of subsection 2 of this section shall be exempt from the three-year attendance requirement of this subdivision; and

(2) Who has made a good faith effort to first secure all available federal sources of funding that could be applied to the reimbursement described in this subsection; and

(3) Who has earned a minimal grade average while in high school as determined by rule of the state board of education, and other requirements for the reimbursement authorized by this subsection as determined by rule and regulation of said board.

7. The provisions of subsection 6 of this section shall not be interpreted to allow for any reimbursement to any four-year institutions of higher education, regardless of whether such reimbursements are made indirectly by means of a public community college or vocational or technical school. In order for any public community college or vocational or technical school to receive reimbursements pursuant to subsection 6 of this section, the qualifying student must exclusively attend a public community college or vocational or technical school.

[7.] 8. The commissioner of education shall develop a procedure for evaluating the effectiveness of the program described in this section. Such evaluation shall be conducted annually with the results of the evaluation provided to the governor, speaker of the house, and president pro tempore of the senate."; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Klindt moved that the above amendment be adopted.

Senator Childers assumed the Chair.

At the request of Senator Shields, SB 51, with SS, SS for SS and SA 1 (pending), was placed on the Informal Calendar.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FORTIETH DAY--TUESDAY, MARCH 18, 2003

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Gross in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

"Be merciful to me, O God, be merciful to me, for in you my soul takes refuge; until the destroying storms pass by." (Psalm 57:1)

Merciful God, we call upon You as we are drawn closer to war and young men and women's lives are put into harm's way. We pray that their souls find refuge in You while their bodies are in danger. We pray for wisdom for our leaders so a quick resolution of this conflict may come about and that compassion and reason may bring us quickly to peace and healing given to those who are injured. In mercy we ask You to hear us good Lord. Amen.

O Lord, You are the only source of wisdom and we seek it so we may be more effective in our work here. Help that the decisions we make and laws we pass may provide our state and our people with hope at this time that is so challenging and filled with doubts and fears. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 428

WHEREAS, it is with special pleasure that the members of the Missouri Senate pause to recognize an outstanding Missouri citizen whose selfless acts of courage and bravery are an inspiration to all who know and love him; and

WHEREAS, Kyle Benford of Joplin, Missouri, is to be commended for his heroic role in saving the lives of two individuals who nearly drowned after the car in which they were traveling skidded off the road and landed in a pond; and

WHEREAS, nineteen-year-old Kyle Benford and his girlfriend were sitting at a stop sign when they witnessed the car skid off the road and jump twenty feet into the pond, which is located on land owned by Don and Connie Balestrin; and

WHEREAS, Kyle Benford left his vehicle and quickly jumped into the pond, where the car was completely submerged, and helped the female passenger out of the car and safely to shore; and

WHEREAS, Kyle then returned to the water to rescue the driver, twenty-nine-year-old Rob Sneed, who had swum to the back of the car and was trying unsuccessfully to get out the back window; and

WHEREAS, Kyle Benford used a hammer to break the back window and retrieve the driver, pulling him to shore as the Missouri State Highway Patrol and ambulance crews arrived at the scene; and

WHEREAS, Rob Sneed and his passenger took solace at the home of Don and Connie Balestrin, where they warmed themselves by the fire and the details of their accident and rescue by Kyle Benford eventually began to sink in as the shock of their ordeal wore off; and

WHEREAS, without the quick thinking and unselfish actions of Kyle Benford, the couple could have faced a more serious situation or even drowned;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-second General Assembly, unanimously join in a thunderous round of applause for Kyle Benford, a remarkable young man whose selfless attempt to save the lives of two complete strangers has earned him the title of "hero"; and

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FORTY-SECOND DAY--THURSDAY, MARCH 20, 2003

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Maxwell in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

"Wise warriors are mightier than strong ones, and those who have knowledge than those who have strength; for by wise guidance you can wage war, and in abundance of counselors there is victory." (Proverbs 24:5,6)

Almighty God, war and death are once again in our world and we pray that our leaders may be given wisdom and knowledge that can shorten this conflict, reduce the numbers that will die and that our victory is tempered with compassion to all in need. Bless our sons and daughters put in harm's way and keep them under the shadow of Your wings. And bless our nation and its people with Your mercy and love. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senators Goode, Foster, Caskey, Childers, Stoll, Shields and Yeckel offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 16

WHEREAS, public education is the primary responsibility of the state after paying state debts, as provided pursuant to Article III, Section 36 of the Missouri Constitution; and

WHEREAS, the adequacy and equity of funding available to public schools has again become a serious concern across the state, highlighted by the wide range of available operating funding for Missouri school districts, which ranges from $4,500 to over $13,700 per pupil; and

WHEREAS, the cost to fully fund state school aid continues to increase significantly each year and requires funds which create hardships for other sectors of society needing access to state funds; and

WHEREAS, public education is labor intensive with roughly three-fourths of operating cost supporting salaries and benefits of staff, and most of those salaries being paid to certificated teachers; and

WHEREAS, the fiscal situation facing the state and the resulting budget problems limits the ability to fund all services including education, it is necessary to review the state's commitment to all present and future aspects of education funding; and

WHEREAS, the fiscal situation and problems facing this state are serious and likely to continue for the foreseeable future and because any major alternation rendered to the state's education funding formula will require some amount of increased appropriation in order to meet the required legal standards of equity and adequacy, the need to explore opportunities to increase general revenue resources that can be used for the funding of education is critical:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that a joint interim committee on education be created to be composed of seven members of the Senate, to be appointed by the President Pro Tem and seven members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said committee conduct an in-depth study concerning all issues relating to equity and adequacy of distribution of state school aid, teachers' salaries, funding for school buildings, and overall funding levels for schools and any other education-related issues the committee deems relevant; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said committee prepare a report, together with its recommendations for any legislative action it deems necessary for submission to the General Assembly prior to the commencement of the Second Regular Session of the Ninety-second General Assembly; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said committee may solicit any input and information necessary to fulfill its obligations from the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education, the State Board of Education, the Department of Higher Education, the Coordinating Board for Higher Education, the State Tax Commission, all school districts and other political subdivisions of this state, teachers and teacher groups, business and other commercial interests and any other interested persons; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that House Research, the Committee on Legislative Research, and Senate Research shall provide such legal, research, clerical, technical and bill drafting services as the committee may require in the performance of its duties; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the actual and necessary expenses of the committee, its members and any staff personnel assigned to the committee incurred in attending meetings of the committee or any subcommittee thereof shall be paid from the Joint Contingent Fund.

"144.062. 1. With respect to exempt sales at retail of tangible personal property and materials for the purpose of constructing, repairing or remodeling facilities for: (1) a county, other political subdivision or instrumentality thereof exempt from taxation under subdivision (10) of section 39 of article III of the Constitution of Missouri; or (2) an organization sales to which are exempt from taxation under the provisions of subdivision (19) of subsection 2 of section 144.030; or (3) any institution of higher education supported by public funds or any private not-for-profit institution of higher education, exempt from taxation under subdivision (20) of subsection 2 of section 144.030; or (4) any private not-for-profit elementary or secondary school exempt from taxation under subdivision (22) of subsection 2 of section 144.030, or (5) the department of transportation, hereinafter collectively referred to as exempt entities, such exemptions shall be allowed for such purchases if the purchases are related to the entities' exempt functions and activities. In addition, the sales shall not be rendered nonexempt nor shall any material supplier or contractor be obligated to pay, collect or remit sales tax with respect to such purchases made by or on behalf of an exempt entity due to such purchases being billed to or paid for by a contractor or the exempt entity contracting with any entity to render any services in relation to such purchases, including but not limited to selection of materials, ordering, pickup, delivery, approval on delivery, taking of delivery, transportation, storage, assumption of risk of loss to materials or providing warranties on materials as specified by contract, use of materials or other purchases for construction of the building or other facility, providing labor, management services, administrative services, design or technical services or advice to the exempt entity, whether or not the contractor or other entity exercises dominion or control in any other manner over the materials in conjunction with services or labor provided to the exempt entity.

2. When any exempt entity contracts for the purpose of constructing, repairing or remodeling facilities, and purchases of tangible personal property and materials to be incorporated into or consumed in the construction of the project are to be made on a tax-exempt basis, such entity shall furnish to the contractor an exemption certificate authorizing such purchases for the construction, repair or remodeling project. The form and content of such project exemption certificate shall be approved by the director of revenue. The project exemption certificate shall include but not be limited to:

- (1) The exempt entity's name, address, Missouri tax identification number and signature of authorized representative;
- (2) The project location, description, and unique identification number;
- (3) The date the contract is entered into, which is the earliest date materials may be purchased for the project on a tax-exempt basis;
- (4) The estimated project completion date; and
- (5) The certificate expiration date.

Such certificate is renewable for a given project at the option of the exempt entity, only for the purpose of revising the certificate expiration date as necessary to complete the project.

3. The contractor shall furnish the certificate prescribed in subsection 2 of this section to all subcontractors, and any contractor purchasing materials shall present such certificate to all material suppliers as authorization to purchase, on behalf of the exempt entity, all tangible personal property and materials to be incorporated into or consumed in the construction of that project and no other on a tax-exempt basis. Such suppliers shall execute to the purchasing contractor invoices bearing the name of the exempt entity and the project identification number. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to exempt the purchase of any construction machinery, equipment or tools used in constructing, repairing or remodeling facilities for the exempt entity. All invoices for all personal property and materials purchased under a project exemption certificate shall be retained by the purchasing contractor for a period of five years and shall be subject to audit by the director of revenue.

4. Any excess resalable tangible personal property or materials which were purchased for the project by a contractor under a project exemption certificate but which were not incorporated into or consumed in the construction of the project shall either be returned to the supplier for credit or the appropriate sales or use tax on such excess property or materials shall be reported on a return and paid by such contractor not later than the due date of the contractor's Missouri sales or use tax return following the month in which it was determined that the materials were not to be used in the project.

5. No contractor or material supplier shall, upon audit, be required to pay tax on tangible personal property and materials incorporated into or consumed in the construction of the project, due to the failure of the exempt entity to revise the certificate expiration date as necessary to complete any work required by the contract. If it is determined that tax is owed on such property and materials due to the failure of the exempt entity to revise such certificate expiration date, the exempt entity shall be liable for the tax owed.

6. If an entity issues exemption certificates for the purchase of tangible personal property and materials which are incorporated into or consumed in the construction of its project and such entity is found not to have had the authority granted by this section to issue such exemption certificates, then such entity shall be liable for the tax owed on such personal property and materials. In addition, if an entity which does have the authority granted by this section to issue exemption certificates issues such certificates for the purchase of tangible personal property and materials which are incorporated into or consumed in the construction of a project, or part of a project, which is found not to be related to such entity's exempt functions and activities, then such entity shall be liable for the tax owed on such personal property and materials."; and

"198.067. 1. An action may be brought by the department, or by the attorney general on his or her own volition or at the request of the department or any other appropriate state agency, to temporarily or permanently enjoin or restrain any violation of sections 198.003 to 198.096, to enjoin the acceptance of new residents until substantial compliance with sections 198.003 to 198.096 is achieved, or to enjoin any specific action or practice of the facility. Any action brought pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be placed at the head of the docket by the court, and the court shall hold a hearing on any action brought pursuant to the provisions of this section no less than fifteen days after the filing of the action.

2. The department may bring an action in circuit court to recover a civil penalty against the licensed operator of the facility as provided by this section. Such action shall be brought in the circuit court for the county in which the facility is located. The circuit court shall determine the amount of penalty to be assessed within the limits set out in this section. Appeals may be taken from the judgment of the circuit court as in other civil cases.

3. The operator of any facility which has been cited with a violation of sections 198.003 to 198.096 or the regulations established pursuant thereto, or of subsection (b), (c), or (d) of Section 1396r of Title 42 of the United States Code or the regulations established pursuant thereto, is liable to the state for civil penalties of up to [ten] twenty-five thousand dollars for each day that the violations existed or continue to exist. Violations shall be presumed to continue to exist from the time they are found until the time the [division of aging] department of health and senior services finds them to have been corrected. When applicable, the amount of the penalty shall be determined as follows:

(1) For each violation of a class I standard when applicable pursuant to subdivision (6) of this subsection, not less than one [hundred fifty] thousand dollars nor more than [one] ten thousand dollars;

(2) For each violation of a class II standard, not less than two hundred fifty dollars nor more than [five hundred] one thousand dollars;

(3) For each violation of a class III standard, not less than [fifteen dollars] fifty dollars nor more than [one] two hundred fifty dollars;

(4) For each violation of a federal standard which does not also constitute a violation of a state law or regulation, not less than two hundred fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars;

(5) For each specific class I violation by the same operator at a particular facility which has been cited previously within the past twenty-four months and for each specific class II or III violation by the same operator at a particular facility which has been cited previously within the past twelve months, double the amount last imposed;

(6) In accordance with the provisions of this section, when the department imposes a civil monetary penalty for a class I violation, the liability for the civil monetary penalty shall be incurred immediately upon the imposition of the violation regardless of any subsequent correction of the violation by the facility. For class II and III violations the department shall impose a civil monetary penalty if a breach of a specific state or federal standard or statute remains uncorrected and not in accord with the accepted plan of correction at the time of the reinspection conducted pursuant to subsection 3 of section 198.026 or the regulations established pursuant to Title 42 of the United States Code. A judgment rendered against the operator of a facility pursuant to this subsection shall bear interest as provided in subsection 1 of section 408.040, RSMo.

[As used in this subdivision the term "violation" shall mean a breach of a specific state or federal standard or statute which remains uncorrected and not in accord with the accepted plan of correction at the time of the reinspection conducted pursuant to subsection 3 of section 198.026 or the regulations established pursuant to Title 42 of the United States Code. A judgment rendered against the operator of a facility pursuant to this subsection shall bear interest as provided in subsection 1 of section 408.040, RSMo.]

4. Any individual who willfully and knowingly certifies pursuant to subsection (b)(3)(B)(I) of Section 1396r of Title 42 of the United States Code a material and false statement in a resident assessment is subject to a civil penalty of not more than one thousand dollars with respect to each assessment. Any individual who willfully and knowingly causes another individual to certify pursuant to subsection (b)(3)(B)(i) of Section 1396r of Title 42 of the United States Code a material and false statement in a resident assessment is subject to a civil penalty of not more than five thousand dollars with respect to each assessment.

5. The imposition of any remedy provided for in sections 198.003 to 198.186 shall not bar the imposition of any other remedy.

6. Twenty-five percent of the penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the [division of aging] elderly home-delivered meals trust fund as established in section 660.078, RSMo. Twenty-five percent of the penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the nursing facility quality care fund to be used for the sole purpose of supporting quality care improvement projects within the office of state ombudsman for long-term care facility residents, established pursuant to section 660.603, RSMo. The remaining fifty percent of the penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be deposited into the nursing facility quality of care fund established in section 198.418 to be used by the department for the sole purpose of developing a program to assist qualified nursing facilities to improve the quality of service to their residents. The director of the department shall, by rule, develop a definition of qualified facilities and shall establish procedures for the selection of qualified facilities. Such penalties shall not be considered a charitable contribution for tax purposes.

7. To recover any civil penalty, the moving party shall prove by clear and convincing evidence that the violation occurred.

8. The licensed operator of a facility against whom an action to recover a civil penalty is brought pursuant to this section may confess judgment as provided in section 511.070, RSMo, at any time prior to hearing. If such licensed operator agrees to confess judgment, the amount of the civil penalty recommended by the moving party in its petition shall be reduced by twenty-five percent and the confessed judgment shall be entered by the circuit court at the reduced amount.

9. The amount of any civil penalty assessed by the circuit court pursuant to this section shall be reduced by the amount of any civil monetary penalty which the licensed operator of the facility may establish it has paid pursuant to the laws of the United States for the breach of the same federal standards for which the state action is brought.

10. In addition to the civil penalties specified in subdivision (1) of subsection 3 of this section, any facility which is cited with a violation of a class I standard pursuant to subsection 1 of section 198.085, when such violation results in serious physical injury or abuse of a sexual nature pursuant to subdivision (1) of section 198.006, to any resident of that facility shall be liable to the state for a civil penalty of one hundred dollars multiplied by the number of beds licensed to the facility, up to a maximum of ten thousand dollars pursuant to subsections 1 and 2 of this section. The liability of the facility for civil penalties pursuant to this section shall be incurred immediately upon the citation of the violation and shall not be affected by any subsequent correction of the violation. For the purposes of this section, "serious physical injury" means physical injury that creates a substantial risk of death or that causes serious disfigurement or protracted loss or impairment of the function of any part of the body.

11. The department shall not impose a fine for self-reporting class II and class III violations so long as each violation is corrected within a specified period of time as determined by the department and there is no reoccurrence of the particular violation for twelve months following the date of the first self-reporting.

12. If a facility is sold or changes its operator, any civil penalty assessed shall not be sold, transferred, or otherwise assigned to the successor operator but shall remain the sole liability of the operator at the time of the violation."

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 556 and 311, Pages 14-19, Section 198.067, by striking all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"198.067. 1. An action may be brought by the department, or by the attorney general on his or her own volition or at the request of the department or any other appropriate state agency, to temporarily or permanently enjoin or restrain any violation of sections 198.003 to 198.096, to enjoin the acceptance of new residents until substantial compliance with sections 198.003 to 198.096 is achieved, or to enjoin any specific action or practice of the facility. Any action brought pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be placed at the head of the docket by the court, and the court shall hold a hearing on any action brought pursuant to the provisions of this section no less than fifteen days after the filing of the action.

2. The department may bring an action in circuit court to recover a civil penalty against the licensed operator of the facility as provided by this section. Such action shall be brought in the circuit court for the county in which the facility is located. The circuit court shall determine the amount of penalty to be assessed within the limits set out in this section. Appeals may be taken from the judgment of the circuit court as in other civil cases.

3. The operator of any facility which has been cited with a violation of sections 198.003 to 198.096 or the regulations established pursuant thereto, or of subsection (b), (c), or (d) of Section 1396r of Title 42 of the United States Code or the regulations established pursuant thereto, is liable to the state for civil penalties of up to [ten] twenty-five thousand dollars for each day that the violations existed or continue to exist. Violations shall be presumed to continue to exist from the time they are found until the time the [division of aging] department of health and senior services finds them to have been corrected. When applicable, the amount of the penalty shall be determined as follows:

(1) For each violation of a class I standard when applicable pursuant to subdivision (6) of this subsection, not less than one [hundred fifty] thousand dollars nor more than [one] ten thousand dollars;

(2) For each violation of a class II standard, not less than two hundred fifty dollars nor more than [five hundred] one thousand dollars;

(3) For each violation of a class III standard, not less than [fifteen dollars] fifty dollars nor more than [one] two hundred fifty dollars;

(4) For each violation of a federal standard which does not also constitute a violation of a state law or regulation, not less than two hundred fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars;

(5) For each specific class I violation by the same operator at a particular facility which has been cited previously within the past twenty-four months and for each specific class II or III violation by the same operator at a particular facility which has been cited previously within the past twelve months, double the amount last imposed;

(6) In accordance with the provisions of this section, when the department imposes a civil monetary penalty for a class I violation, the liability for the civil monetary penalty shall be incurred immediately upon the imposition of the violation regardless of any subsequent correction of the violation by the facility. For class II violations the department shall impose a civil monetary penalty if after thirty days the violation remains uncorrected. For class III violations the department shall impose a civil monetary penalty if a breach of a specific state or federal standard or statute remains uncorrected and not in accord with the accepted plan of correction at the time of the reinspection conducted pursuant to subsection 3 of section 198.026 or the regulations established pursuant to Title 42 of the United States Code. A judgment rendered against the operator of a facility pursuant to this subsection shall bear interest as provided in subsection 1 of section 408.040, RSMo.

[As used in this subdivision the term "violation" shall mean a breach of a specific state or federal standard or statute which remains uncorrected and not in accord with the accepted plan of correction at the time of the reinspection conducted pursuant to subsection 3 of section 198.026 or the regulations established pursuant to Title 42 of the United States Code. A judgment rendered against the operator of a facility pursuant to this subsection shall bear interest as provided in subsection 1 of section 408.040, RSMo.]

4. Any individual who willfully and knowingly certifies pursuant to subsection (b)(3)(B)(i) of Section 1396r of Title 42 of the United States Code a material and false statement in a resident assessment is subject to a civil penalty of not more than one thousand dollars with respect to each assessment. Any individual who willfully and knowingly causes another individual to certify pursuant to subsection (b)(3)(B)(i) of Section 1396r of Title 42 of the United States Code a material and false statement in a resident assessment is subject to a civil penalty of not more than five thousand dollars with respect to each assessment.

5. The imposition of any remedy provided for in sections 198.003 to 198.186 shall not bar the imposition of any other remedy.

6. Twenty-five percent of the penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the [division of aging] elderly home-delivered meals trust fund as established in section 660.078, RSMo. Twenty-five percent of the penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the nursing facility quality care fund to be used for the sole purpose of supporting quality care improvement projects within the office of state ombudsman for long-term care facility residents, established pursuant to section 660.603, RSMo. The remaining fifty percent of the penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be deposited into the nursing facility quality of care fund established in section 198.418 to be used by the department for the sole purpose of developing a program to assist qualified nursing facilities to improve the quality of service to their residents. The director of the department shall, by rule, develop a definition of qualified facilities and shall establish procedures for the selection of qualified facilities. Such penalties shall not be considered a charitable contribution for tax purposes.

7. To recover any civil penalty, the moving party shall prove by clear and convincing evidence that the violation occurred.

8. The licensed operator of a facility against whom an action to recover a civil penalty is brought pursuant to this section may confess judgment as provided in section 511.070, RSMo, at any time prior to hearing. If such licensed operator agrees to confess judgment, the amount of the civil penalty recommended by the moving party in its petition shall be reduced by twenty-five percent and the confessed judgment shall be entered by the circuit court at the reduced amount.

9. The amount of any civil penalty assessed by the circuit court pursuant to this section shall be reduced by the amount of any civil monetary penalty which the licensed operator of the facility may establish it has paid pursuant to the laws of the United States for the breach of the same federal standards for which the state action is brought.

10. In addition to the civil penalties specified in subdivision (1) of subsection 3 of this section, any facility which is cited with a violation of a class I standard pursuant to subsection 1 of section 198.085, when such violation results in serious physical injury or abuse of a sexual nature pursuant to subdivision (1) of section 198.006, to any resident of that facility shall be liable to the state for a civil penalty of one hundred dollars multiplied by the number of beds licensed to the facility, up to a maximum of ten thousand dollars pursuant to subsections 1 and 2 of this section. The liability of the facility for civil penalties pursuant to this section shall be incurred immediately upon the citation of the violation and shall not be affected by any subsequent correction of the violation. For the purposes of this section, "serious physical injury" means physical injury that creates a substantial risk of death or that causes serious disfigurement or protracted loss or impairment of the function of any part of the body.

11. The department shall not impose a fine for self-reporting class II and class III violations so long as each violation is corrected within a specified period of time as determined by the department and there is no reoccurrence of the particular violation for twelve months following the date of the first self-reporting.

12. If a facility is sold or changes its operator, any civil penalty assessed shall not be sold, transferred, or otherwise assigned to the successor operator but shall remain the sole liability of the operator at the time of the violation."

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIFTIETH DAY--WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 2003

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Pro Tem Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

"And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death." (Revelations 21:4)

Loving Father, we see the possibility of peace and pray it will quickly settle in in Iraq, yet we are mindful that families like ours grieve and worry and cry over those whom they have lost and who are missing. We pray for such families and as we do, we draw our own families closer to us realizing how important they are to us. Let us be more loving to one another, find compassion for our enemies and seek You in whom life exists forever. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

"565.004. 1. Each homicide offense which is lawfully joined in the same indictment or information together with any homicide offense or offense other than a homicide shall be charged together with such offense in separate counts. A count charging any offense of homicide may only be charged and tried together with one or more counts of any other homicide or offense other than a homicide as provided in subsection 2 of section 545.140, RSMo. Except as provided in subsections 2, 3, and 4 of this section, no murder in the first degree offense may be tried together with any offense other than murder in the first degree. In the event of a joinder of homicide offenses, all offenses charged which are supported by the evidence in the case, together with all proper lesser offenses under section 565.025, shall, when requested by one of the parties or the court, be submitted to the jury or, in a jury-waived trial, considered by the judge.

2. A count charging any offense of homicide of a particular individual may be joined in an indictment or information and tried with one or more counts charging alternatively any other homicide or offense other than a homicide committed against that individual. The state shall not be required to make an election as to the alternative count on which it will proceed. This subsection in no way limits the right to try in the conjunctive, where they are properly joined under subsection 1 of this section, either separate offenses other than murder in the first degree or separate offenses of murder in the first degree committed against different individuals.

3. When a defendant has been charged and proven before trial to be a prior offender pursuant to chapter 558, RSMo, so that the judge shall assess punishment and not a jury for an offense other than murder in the first degree, that offense may be tried and submitted to the trier together with any murder in the first degree charge with which it is lawfully joined. In such case the judge will assess punishment on any offense joined with a murder in the first degree charge according to law and, when the trier is a jury, it shall be instructed upon punishment on the charge of murder in the first degree in accordance with section 565.030.

[4. When the state waives the death penalty for a murder first degree offense, that offense may be tried and submitted to the trier together with any other charge with which it is lawfully joined.]

565.006. 1. At any time before the commencement of the trial of a homicide offense, the defendant may, with the assent of the court, waive a trial by jury and agree to submit all issues in the case to the court, whose finding shall have the force and effect of a verdict of a jury. Such a waiver must include a waiver of a trial by jury of all issues and offenses charged in the case, including the punishment to be assessed and imposed if the defendant is found guilty.

2. No defendant who pleads guilty to a homicide offense or who is found guilty of a homicide offense after trial to the court without a jury shall be permitted a trial by jury on the issue of the punishment to be imposed, except by agreement of the state.

3. [If a defendant is found guilty of murder in the first degree after a jury trial in which the state has not waived the death penalty, the defendant may not waive a jury trial of the issue of the punishment to be imposed, except by agreement with the state and the court.

4.] Any waiver of a jury trial and agreement permitted by this section shall be entered in the court record.

565.020. 1. A person commits the crime of murder in the first degree if [he] such person knowingly causes the death of another person after deliberation upon the matter.

2. Murder in the first degree is a class A felony, and the punishment shall be [either death or] imprisonment for life without eligibility for probation or parole, or release except by act of the governor[; except that, if a person has not reached his sixteenth birthday at the time of the commission of the crime, the punishment shall be imprisonment for life without eligibility for probation or parole, or release except by act of the governor].

565.040. [1. In the event that the death penalty provided in this chapter is held to be unconstitutional,] Any person convicted of murder in the first degree [shall be] and sentenced by the court to death hereafter has such sentence commuted to life imprisonment without eligibility for probation, parole, or release except by act of the governor[, with the exception that when a specific aggravating circumstance found in a case is held to be unconstitutional or invalid for another reason, the supreme court of Missouri is further authorized to remand the case for resentencing or retrial of the punishment pursuant to subsection 5 of section 565.036.

2. In the event that any death sentence imposed pursuant to this chapter is held to be unconstitutional, the trial court which previously sentenced the defendant to death shall cause the defendant to be brought before the court and shall sentence the defendant to life imprisonment without eligibility for probation, parole, or release except by act of the governor, with the exception that when a specific aggravating circumstance found in a case is held to be inapplicable, unconstitutional or invalid for another reason, the supreme court of Missouri is further authorized to remand the case for retrial of the punishment pursuant to subsection 5 of section 565.035]."; and Further amend said bill, Page 27, Section 570.040, Line 12, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"[546.680. When judgment of death is rendered by any court of competent jurisdiction, a warrant signed by the judge and attested by the clerk under the seal of the court must be drawn and delivered to the sheriff. It must state the conviction and judgment and appoint a day on which the judgment must be executed, which must not be less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the date of judgment, and must direct the sheriff to deliver the defendant, at a time specified in said order, not more than ten days from the date of judgment, to the chief administrative officer of a correctional facility of the department of corrections, for execution.]

[546.690. The judge of a court at which a conviction is had must, immediately after the conviction, transmit to the governor of the state, by mail or otherwise, a statement of the conviction and judgment.]

[546.700. Whenever, for any reason, any convict sentenced to the punishment of death shall not have been executed pursuant to such sentence, and the cause shall stand in full force, the supreme court, or the court of the county in which the conviction was had, on the application of the prosecuting attorney, shall issue a writ of habeas corpus to bring such convict before the court; or if he be at large, a warrant for his apprehension may be issued by such court, or any judge thereof.]

[546.710. Upon such convicted offender being brought before the court, they shall proceed to inquire into the facts, and if no legal reasons exist against the execution of sentence, such court shall issue a warrant to the director of the department of corrections, for the execution of the prisoner at the time therein specified, which execution shall be obeyed by the director accordingly.]

[546.720. The manner of inflicting the punishment of death shall be by the administration of lethal gas or by means of the administration of lethal injection. And for such purpose the director of the department of corrections is hereby authorized and directed to provide a suitable and efficient room or place, enclosed from public view, within the walls of a correctional facility of the department of corrections, and the necessary appliances for carrying into execution the death penalty by means of the administration of lethal gas or by means of the administration of lethal injection.]

[546.730. A judgment of death must be executed within a correctional center of the department of corrections; and such execution shall be under the supervision and direction of the director of the department of corrections.]

[546.740. The chief administrative officer of the correctional center, or his duly appointed representative shall be present at the execution and the director of the department of corrections shall invite the presence of the attorney general of the state, and at least eight reputable citizens, to be selected by him; and he shall at the request of the defendant, permit such clergy or religious leaders, not exceeding two, as the defendant may name, and any person, other than another incarcerated offender, relatives or friends, not to exceed five, to be present at the execution, together with such peace officers as he may think expedient, to witness the execution; but no person under twenty-one years of age shall be allowed to witness the execution.]

[546.750. After the execution the chief administrative officer of the correctional facility shall make a return upon the death warrant to the court by which the judgment was rendered, showing the time, mode and manner in which it was executed.]

[546.800. If, after any female convict shall be sentenced to the punishment of death, the officer having charge of her person shall have reason to suspect that she is pregnant, he shall in like manner summon a jury of six persons, not less than three of whom shall be physicians, and shall give notice thereof to the prosecuting attorney of the county where such criminal proceedings originated, or to the circuit attorney of the city of St. Louis, if such criminal proceedings originated in that city, who shall attend, and the proceedings shall be had as provided.]

[546.810. The inquisition shall be signed by the jury and the officer in charge of such convict, and if it appear that such female convict is pregnant with child, her execution shall be suspended and the inquisition shall be transmitted to the governor.]

[546.820. Whenever the governor shall be satisfied that the cause of such suspension no longer exists, he shall issue his warrant, appointing a day for the execution of such convict, pursuant to her sentence; or he may, at his discretion, commute her punishment to imprisonment in the penitentiary for life.]

[565.030. 1. Where murder in the first degree is charged but not submitted or where the state waives the death penalty, the submission to the trier and all subsequent proceedings in the case shall proceed as in all other criminal cases with a single stage trial in which guilt and punishment are submitted together.

2. Where murder in the first degree is submitted to the trier without a waiver of the death penalty, the trial shall proceed in two stages before the same trier. At the first stage the trier shall decide only whether the defendant is guilty or not guilty of any submitted offense. The issue of punishment shall not be submitted to the trier at the first stage. If an offense is charged other than murder in the first degree in a count together with a count of murder in the first degree, the trial judge shall assess punishment on any such offense according to law, after the defendant is found guilty of such offense and after he finds the defendant to be a prior offender pursuant to chapter 558, RSMo.

3. If murder in the first degree is submitted and the death penalty was not waived but the trier finds the defendant guilty of a lesser homicide, a second stage of the trial shall proceed at which the only issue shall be the punishment to be assessed and declared. No further evidence shall be received. If the trier is a jury it shall be instructed on the law. The attorneys may then argue as in other criminal cases the issue of punishment, after which the trier shall assess and declare the punishment as in all other criminal cases.

4. If the trier at the first stage of a trial where the death penalty was not waived finds the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree, a second stage of the trial shall proceed at which the only issue shall be the punishment to be assessed and declared. Evidence in aggravation and mitigation of punishment, including but not limited to evidence supporting any of the aggravating or mitigating circumstances listed in subsection 2 or 3 of section 565.032, may be presented subject to the rules of evidence at criminal trials. Such evidence may include, within the discretion of the court, evidence concerning the murder victim and the impact of the crime upon the family of the victim and others. Rebuttal and surrebuttal evidence may be presented. The state shall be the first to proceed. If the trier is a jury it shall be instructed on the law. The attorneys may then argue the issue of punishment to the jury, and the state shall have the right to open and close the argument. The trier shall assess and declare the punishment at life imprisonment without eligibility for probation, parole, or release except by act of the governor:

(1) If the trier finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant is mentally retarded; or

(2) If the trier does not find beyond a reasonable doubt at least one of the statutory aggravating circumstances set out in subsection 2 of section 565.032; or

(3) If the trier concludes that there is evidence in mitigation of punishment, including but not limited to evidence supporting the statutory mitigating circumstances listed in subsection 3 of section 565.032, which is sufficient to outweigh the evidence in aggravation of punishment found by the trier; or

(4) If the trier decides under all of the circumstances not to assess and declare the punishment at death. If the trier is a jury it shall be so instructed.

If the trier assesses and declares the punishment at death it shall, in its findings or verdict, set out in writing the aggravating circumstance or circumstances listed in subsection 2 of section 565.032 which it found beyond a reasonable doubt. If the trier is a jury it shall be instructed before the case is submitted that if it is unable to decide or agree upon the punishment the court shall assess and declare the punishment at life imprisonment without eligibility for probation, parole, or release except by act of the governor or death. The court shall follow the same procedure as set out in this section whenever it is required to determine punishment for murder in the first degree.

5. Upon written agreement of the parties and with leave of the court, the issue of the defendant's mental retardation may be taken up by the court and decided prior to trial without prejudicing the defendant's right to have the issue submitted to the trier of fact as provided in subsection 4 of this section.

6. As used in this section, the terms "mental retardation" or "mentally retarded" refer to a condition involving substantial limitations in general functioning characterized by significantly subaverage intellectual functioning with continual extensive related deficits and limitations in two or more adaptive behaviors such as communication, self-care, home living, social skills, community use, self-direction, health and safety, functional academics, leisure and work, which conditions are manifested and documented before eighteen years of age.

7. The provisions of this section shall only govern offenses committed on or after August 28, 2001.]

[565.032. 1. In all cases of murder in the first degree for which the death penalty is authorized, the judge in a jury-waived trial shall consider, or he shall include in his instructions to the jury for it to consider:

(1) Whether a statutory aggravating circumstance or circumstances enumerated in subsection 2 of this section is established by the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt; and

(2) If a statutory aggravating circumstance or circumstances is proven beyond a reasonable doubt, whether the evidence as a whole justifies a sentence of death or a sentence of life imprisonment without eligibility for probation, parole, or release except by act of the governor. In determining the issues enumerated in subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection, the trier shall consider all evidence which it finds to be in aggravation or mitigation of punishment, including evidence received during the first stage of the trial and evidence supporting any of the statutory aggravating or mitigating circumstances set out in subsections 2 and 3 of this section. If the trier is a jury, it shall not be instructed upon any specific evidence which may be in aggravation or mitigation of punishment, but shall be instructed that each juror shall consider any evidence which he considers to be aggravating or mitigating.

2. Statutory aggravating circumstances for a murder in the first degree offense shall be limited to the following:

[565.035. 1. Whenever the death penalty is imposed in any case, and upon the judgment becoming final in the trial court, the sentence shall be reviewed on the record by the supreme court of Missouri. SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 361, 103, 156 and 329, Page 49, Section 260.479, Line 16, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"260.830. 1. Any county of the third classification or any county of the second classification with more than forty-eight thousand two hundred but less than forty-eight thousand three hundred inhabitants may, by a majority vote of its governing body, impose a landfill fee pursuant to sections 260.830 and 260.831, for the benefit of the county. No order or ordinance enacted pursuant to the authority granted by this section shall be effective unless the governing body of the county submits to the qualified voters of the county, at a public election, a proposal to authorize the governing body of the county to impose a fee under the provisions of this section. The ballot of submission shall be in substantially the following form:

Shall the county of (insert name of county) impose a landfill fee of (insert amount of fee per ton or volumetric equivalent of solid waste)?

YES NO

If a majority of the votes cast on the proposal by the qualified voters voting thereon are in favor of the proposal, then the order or ordinance and any amendments thereto shall become effective on the first day of the calendar quarter immediately after such election results are certified. If a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters voting are opposed to the proposal, then the governing body of the county shall have no power to impose the fee authorized by this section unless and until the governing body of the county shall again have submitted another proposal to authorize the governing body of the county to impose such fee, and the proposal is approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon. If an economic development authority does not exist in a county at the time that a landfill fee is adopted by such county under this section, then the governing body of such county shall establish an economic development authority in the county.

2. The landfill fee authorized by such an election may not exceed one dollar and fifty cents per ton or its volumetric equivalent of solid waste accepted, which charge may be in addition to any such fee currently imposed pursuant to the provisions of section 260.330.

260.831. 1. Each operator of a solid waste sanitary or demolition landfill in any county wherein a landfill fee has been approved by the voters pursuant to section 260.830 shall collect a charge equal to the charge authorized by the voters in such election, not to exceed one dollar and fifty cents per ton or its volumetric equivalent of solid waste accepted. Such fee shall be collected in addition to any fee authorized or imposed pursuant to the provisions of section 260.330, and shall be paid to such operator by all political subdivisions, municipalities, corporations, entities or persons disposing of solid waste or demolition waste, whether pursuant to contract or otherwise, and notwithstanding that any such contract may provide for collection, transportation and disposal of such waste at a fixed fee. Any such contract providing for collections, transportation and disposal of such waste at a fixed fee which is in force on August 28, [1993] 2003, shall be renegotiated by the parties to the contract to include the additional fee imposed by this section. Each such operator shall submit the charge, less collection costs, to the governing body of the county, which shall dedicate such funds for use by the industrial development authority within the county and such funds shall be used by the authority for economic development within the county. Collection costs shall be the same as established by the department of natural resources pursuant to section 260.330, and shall not exceed two percent of the amount collected pursuant to this section.

2. The charges established in this section shall be enumerated separately from any disposal fee charged by the landfill. After January 1, 1994, the fee authorized under section 260.830 and this section shall be stated as a separate surcharge on each individual solid waste collection customer's invoice and shall also name the economic development authority which receives the funds. Moneys transmitted to the governing body of the county shall be no less than the amount collected less collection costs and in a form, manner and frequency as the governing body may prescribe. Failure to collect such charge shall not relieve the operator from responsibility for transmitting an amount equal to the charge to the governing body."; and "640.100. 1. The safe drinking water commission created in section 640.105 shall promulgate rules necessary for the implementation, administration and enforcement of sections 640.100 to 640.140 and the federal Safe Drinking Water Act as amended.

2. No standard, rule or regulation or any amendment or repeal thereof shall be adopted except after a public hearing to be held by the commission after at least thirty days' prior notice in the manner prescribed by the rulemaking provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and an opportunity given to the public to be heard; the commission may solicit the views, in writing, of persons who may be affected by, knowledgeable about, or interested in proposed rules and regulations, or standards. Any person heard or registered at the hearing, or making written request for notice, shall be given written notice of the action of the commission with respect to the subject thereof. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is promulgated to administer and enforce sections 640.100 to 640.140 shall become effective only if the agency has fully complied with all of the requirements of chapter 536, RSMo, including but not limited to, section 536.028, RSMo, if applicable, after June 9, 1998. If the provisions of section 536.028, RSMo, apply, the provisions of this section are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to section 536.028, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void, except that nothing in this chapter or chapter 644, RSMo, shall affect the validity of any rule adopted and promulgated prior to June 9, 1998.

3. The commission shall promulgate rules and regulations for the certification of public water system operators, backflow prevention assembly testers and laboratories conducting tests pursuant to sections 640.100 to 640.140. The commission shall promulgate rules and regulations for collection of samples and analysis of water furnished by municipalities, corporations, companies, state establishments, federal establishments or individuals to the public. The department of natural resources or the department of health and senior services shall, at the request of any supplier, make any analyses or tests required pursuant to the terms of section 192.320, RSMo, and sections 640.100 to 640.140. The department shall collect fees to cover the reasonable cost of laboratory services, both within the department of natural resources and the department of health and senior services, laboratory certification and program administration as required by sections 640.100 to 640.140. The laboratory services and program administration fees pursuant to this subsection shall not exceed two hundred dollars for a supplier supplying less than four thousand one hundred service connections, three hundred dollars for supplying less than seven thousand six hundred service connections, five hundred dollars for supplying seven thousand six hundred or more service connections, and five hundred dollars for testing surface water. Such fees shall be deposited in the safe drinking water fund as specified in section 640.110. The analysis of all drinking water required by section 192.320, RSMo, and sections 640.100 to 640.140 shall be made by the department of natural resources laboratories, department of health and senior services laboratories or laboratories certified by the department of natural resources.

4. The department of natural resources shall establish and maintain an inventory of public water supplies and conduct sanitary surveys of public water systems. The department shall maintain such inventory which shall be classified as follows:

- (1) Class I - Population under one thousand;
- (2) Class II - Population under five thousand;

- (4) Class IV - Population under twenty thousand; and
- (5) Class V - Population over twenty thousand.

Such records shall be available for public inspection during regular business hours.

5. (1) For the purpose of complying with federal requirements for maintaining the primacy of state enforcement of the federal Safe Drinking Water Act, the department is hereby directed to request appropriations from the general revenue fund and all other appropriate sources to fund the activities of the public drinking water program and in addition to the fees authorized pursuant to subsection 3 of this section, an annual fee for each customer service connection with a public water system is hereby authorized to be imposed upon all customers of public water systems in this state. The fees collected shall not exceed the amounts specified in this subsection and the commission may set the fees, by rule, in a lower amount by proportionally reducing all fees charged pursuant to this subsection from the specified maximum amounts. Each customer of a public water system shall pay an annual fee for each customer service connection.

(2) The annual fee per customer service connection for unmetered customers and customers with meters not greater than one inch in size shall be based upon the number of service connections in the water system serving that customer, and shall not exceed:

(3) The annual user fee for customers having meters greater than one inch but less than or equal to two inches in size shall not exceed five dollars; for customers with meters greater than two inches but less than or equal to four inches in size shall not exceed twenty-five dollars; and for customers with meters greater than four inches in size shall not exceed fifty dollars.

(4) Customers served by multiple connections shall pay an annual user fee based on the above rates for each connection, except that no single facility served by multiple connections shall pay a total of more than five hundred dollars per year.

6. Fees imposed pursuant to subsection 5 of this section shall become effective on August 28, 1992, and shall be collected by the public water system serving the customer. The commission shall promulgate rules and regulations on the procedures for billing, collection and delinquent payment. Fees collected by a public water system pursuant to subsection 5 of this section are state fees. The annual fee shall be enumerated separately from all other charges, and shall be collected in monthly, quarterly or annual increments. Such fees shall be transferred to the director of the department of revenue at frequencies not less than quarterly. Two percent of the revenue arising from the fees shall be retained by the public water system for the purpose of reimbursing its expenses for billing and collection of such fees.

7. Imposition and collection of the fees authorized in subsection 5 of this section shall be suspended on the first day of a calendar quarter if, during the preceding calendar quarter, the federally delegated authority granted to the safe drinking water program within the department of natural resources to administer the Safe Drinking Water Act, 42 U.S.C. 300g-2, is withdrawn. The fee shall not be reinstated until the first day of the calendar quarter following the quarter during which such delegated authority is reinstated.

8. Any project which receives state or federal funds pursuant to section 640.107 or 640.600 shall use the formula set forth pursuant to section 640.620 for payment of costs incurred in the planning and design of such projects.

[8.] 9. Fees imposed pursuant to subsection 5 of this section shall expire on September 1, 2007.

640.115. 1. Every municipal corporation, private corporation, company, partnership, federal establishment, state establishment or individual supplying or authorized to supply drinking water to the public within the state shall file with the department of natural resources a certified copy of the plans and surveys of the waterworks with a description of the methods of purification, treatment technology and source from which the supply of water is derived, and no source of supply shall be used without a written permit of approval issued to the continuing operating authority by the department of natural resources, or water dispensed to the public without first obtaining such written permit of approval. Prior to a change of permittee, the current permittee shall notify the department of the proposed change and the department shall perform a permit review.

2. Construction, extension or alteration of a public water system shall be, pursuant to section 640.620, in accordance with the rules and regulations of the safe drinking water commission.

Such continuing operating authority for all community water systems and nontransient, noncommunity water systems commencing operation after October 1, 1999, shall be required to have and maintain the managerial, technical and financial capacity, as determined by the department, to comply with sections 640.100 to 640.140.

If the water system cannot show to the department's satisfaction that such continuing operating authority exists, or if the water system is not making substantial progress toward compliance, the water system's permit may be revoked. The continuing operating authority may reapply for a permit in accordance with rules promulgated by the commission.

640.605. The grants may be made to districts or communities to assist in financing, including engineering and legal service costs, specific projects for construction, original or enlargement of supply, source water protection treatment, purification, storage and distribution facilities for water systems and collection, treatment, forced mains, lift stations and disposal facilities for sewage systems, or any other item necessary for the physical operation of the water or sewage systems where grant funds are necessary to reduce the project cost per user to a reasonable level. Any engineering or design costs shall follow the formula set forth pursuant to section 640.620. The grants may be made to supplement funds from loan proceeds or other private or public sources when such grants are not available through any other state or federal agency.

640.615. 1. The applicant must first apply with the agency or other financial source which is to furnish the primary financial assistance, and after the amount of that assistance has been determined, an application for a grant hereunder may be made to and processed by the department of natural resources. The department of natural resources shall make the necessary rules and regulations for the consideration and processing of all grant requests, which shall generally conform to those used by federal grant and loan agencies, which rules shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. 640.620. In any case, the grant shall not be in excess of one thousand four hundred dollars per connection, or, in the case of a source water protection project, for more than twenty percent of the cost per acre for conservation reserve, except when any entity provides a certified design and operation plan which is less than the average per capita cost for installations within the same population classification established pursuant to subsection 4 of section 640.100, then the certified licensed engineer or company providing such engineering or design service shall receive payment in an amount equal to the usual and customary fee for such project plus additional compensation equal to two times the percentage by which the cost of construction of such facility is less than the average per capita cost of facilities within the same population classification as set forth in subsection 4 of section 640.100, and, except as otherwise provided in this section, no district or system may receive more than one grant for any purpose in any two-year period. Such entity shall also pay to such engineer or company providing such engineering service compensation equal to twenty-five percent of the amount of any annual operational costs which are lower than the average per capita operational costs for facilities within the population classifications set forth pursuant to subsection 4 of section 640.100 for a period of time equal to one-fourth the design lifetime of such facility or five years whichever is less. Grantees who received or who are receiving funds under the 1993-1994 special allocation for flood-impacted communities are not subject to the prohibition against receiving more than one grant during any two-year period for a period ending two years after the final grant allocation for flood-impacted communities is received by that grantee."; and

3. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2003, shall be invalid and void."; and

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Pro Tem Kinder in the Chair.

Lord, watch our "going out and coming in" bringing us home safely to our loved ones. Amen.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 17

WHEREAS, faith-based and community organizations are currently providing quality social services and making a positive difference in the communities they serve; and

WHEREAS, faith-based and community organizations are serving their communities in areas such as the prevention and treatment of juvenile delinquency, child care services, support services for the elderly, the prevention of crime, the intervention in and prevention of domestic violence, and a number of other social service areas; and

WHEREAS, some of these faith-based and community organizations are currently receiving funds from federal government, or through a state, city, or local government that itself receives federal funds, to carry out their missions; and

WHEREAS, because of the quality services provided by these organizations, it is important for the state and local governments to utilize their services by working in partnership with faith-based and community organizations; and

WHEREAS, faith-based and community organizations that currently work in partnership with local governments or judicial circuits are doing so within the framework of the Constitutional church-state guidelines:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby express their gratitude to faith-based and community organizations working in their communities to improve the lives of the citizens of this state; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we support the mission of faith-based and community organizations to provide social services to improve the lives of our citizens; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we support and encourage the state and all local governments to work in partnership with faith-based and community organizations to provide quality social services that improve the lives of so many of our citizens in particular and better our society in general; and

To establish a Joint Interim Committee on Community Health.

WHEREAS, the manner in which health care is currently administered at the state level is fragmented and often unresponsive to health care issues; and

WHEREAS, the responsibility for health care policy, purchasing, planning, and regulation is spread among many different agencies and departments; and

WHEREAS, there is a need to have a central agency serve as the lead planning state entity for all health insurance and pharmacy benefit issues in the state to remedy the current situation; and

WHEREAS, the state could benefit from maximizing its purchasing power inasmuch as the state now has none of its health care purchasing coordinated; and

WHEREAS, minimizing the duplication and maximizing the administrative efficiency in the state's health care systems by removing overlapping functions and streamlining uncoordinated programs would lead to increased cost savings to the state in a time of fiscal uncertainty; and

WHEREAS, the state has a need to develop a better health care infrastructure that is more responsive to the consumers it serves while improving access to and coverage for health care:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby create a joint interim committee to be composed of seven members of the Senate, to be appointed by the President Pro Tem of the Senate and seven members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, whereof at least three members from each house shall be from the minority party to conduct a study to determine the feasibility of achieving the objectives of decreasing health insurance costs to all state employees and streamlining state medicaid programs to achieve cost savings, as well as the other objectives expressed herein; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT THE JOINT COMMITTEE AND ITS MEMBERS SHALL HAVE NO CONTACT, WRITTEN OR ORAL, WITH THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI OR ANY EMPLOYEES THEREOF; AND

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT THE JOINT COMMITTEE SHALL BE PROHIBITED FROM REQUESTING ANY RESEARCH OR INFORMATION FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI OR ANY EMPLOYEE THEREOF; AND

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the joint committee shall call its first meeting within fifteen days of the signing by the Governor of this concurrent resolution; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that House Research, the Committee on Legislative Research, and Senate Research shall provide such legal, research, clerical, technical, and bill drafting services as the committee may require in the performance of its duties; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the joint committee shall perform a study of the feasibility and economic impact of achieving the objectives provided herein for submission to the General Assembly prior to the commencement of the Second Regular Session of the Ninety-second General Assembly; the study analysis shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

- (1) An inventory of current health care and pharmacy benefit plans and related programming offered to state retirees and their dependents and state beneficiaries and their dependents;
- (2) The financial feasibility and programming implications of integrating benefit plans, or portions thereof, to achieve financial economies to the state and state retirees and their dependents and state beneficiaries and their dependents;
- (3) A prioritized analysis of infrastructure and appropriations necessary to adequately implement any joint committee recommendation; and
- (4) If, by a majority vote of the members of the joint committee, a determination is made that one of the existing health or pharmacy benefit plans of one of the member agencies, or any part thereof, would be better served by being excluded from the Division of Community Health, such determination and a detailed analysis thereof shall be included; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the joint committee shall be authorized to contract for consulting services, subject to appropriation, to assist with the requirements of the study; and
